Foul Weather Helped Cut Traffic Deaths

Holiday Weekend
Toll of 581 Was
Lower Than Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bad weather throughout the nation may have aided in keeping the Christmas traffic death toll far below the 800 to 900 deaths predicted, the National Safety Council says.

Council President Howard Pyle said the low total of 581 deaths for the four-day holiday period which ended at midnight Sunday may have been due to the poor traveling conditions which kept many off the roads.

Although the number of deaths was low, the price paid in terms of grief and tragedy was high.

A head-on collision near White River, S. D., killed seven persons, including a family of four in one car and two brothers in the other. Carey Shelton, 25, of Mission, S.D., his wife, son and daughter were killed along with Joseph Kever, 18, his brother Richie, 15, and a friend, Bruce Harris, 16. The teen-agers were from White River.

Three other teen-agers were killed when their car blew a tire and smashed into a guardrail of a Kansas City highway.

Four members of a Jackson, Miss., family are dead as the result of a fiery two-car collision in Walthall County, Miss. Killed was Robert Weary, 49, his wife and two young sons.

Mrs. Kathryn Dolala, 49, of Ripon, Wis., and her three children were killed when the car driven by her husband swerved off a road and skidded sideways into the rear of a parked truck near Divernon, Ill.

A car drag racing down a Salt Lake City street struck and killed Mrs. Sarah Ann Legroan, 73. She was carrying a sack full of Christmas presents, which were scattered along the street.

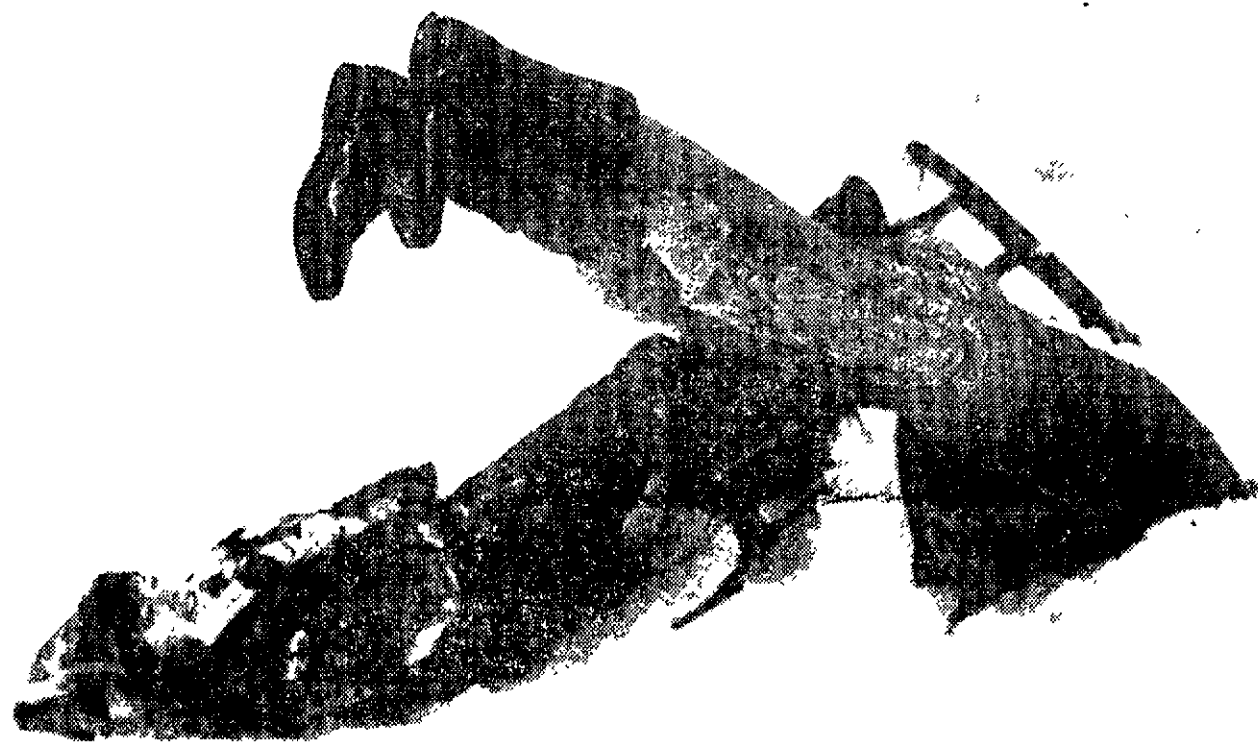

Nixon Indicates He Will Sign Tax Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, back at the White House after a brief trip to his nearby mountain retreat, has indicated he will sign the tax reform bill before he leaves for a two-week winter vacation in California.

The measure falls $2.5 billion below the revenue he wanted. The administration now is hunting ways to trim spending to make up the shortfall.

Financial and foreign policy matters were reviewed by the President Sunday in discussions with aides John D. Ehrlichman and Henry A. Kissinger. Nixon will send his 1971 federal budget proposals to Congress in about a month.

Nixon, due to leave Tuesday for his home at San Clemente, Calif., went by helicopter to snowy Camp David Saturday night. His wife and their daughter Tricia accompanied him on the windy flight to the retreat in the Catskill Mountains about 60 miles northwest of Washington.

1,000 Miners Strike to Press Nixon to Sign Safety Measure

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — More than 1,000 coal miners here struck a score of mines today to press their demand for President Nixon to sign a federal coal mine health and safety bill.

A spokesman for the widespread Consolidation Coal Co., owner of Consol No. 9 mine in which 78 men were killed in a disaster 17 months ago, said an unsuccessful attempt had been made by women pickets to close its 400-man Loveridge mine in the northern part of the state.

All other Consol mines were working, he said.

A similar walkout last winter idled West Virginia's 40,000 miners when grass-roots organizations were successful in pressing for legislative approval of a state law providing compensation for pneumoconiosis, as respiratory ailment called "black lung."

A survey of the state's extensive coal fields, however, showed that today's strike had little effect outside of the Kanawha River Valley here and at two mines in the state's southern field, in Logan County.

A spokesman for the Kanawha Valley Coal Association, representing member mine companies, said 20 mines had been closed by pickets. He estimated they employed a total of 1,200 men.

"The walkout is concentrated primarily in Kanawha County," he said. "We haven't yet seen any picket action outside our area."

The Black Lung Association, a small group of women among miner-dominated group, called Saturday for a general strike beginning at midnight Sunday and to last until Nixon signed the bill. The Black Lung group also was active in last winter's strike.

Nixon has until midnight Jan. 1 to act on the bill.

The United Mine Workers of America, which represents most of the nation's coal miners, said it would not endorse the current walkout. "We call our own strikes," a spokesman said. There are about 200,000 working miners in the country.

Sara Koznoski, a leader of those widowed by the Consol No. 9 disaster, urged the miners Saturday to pick up the old mine slogan "no law, no coal."

She said in a statement "thousands of coal miners will be denied compensation for pneumoconiosis and until numbers will die in single accidents or by scores."

She headed a delegation of about nine widows who hoped to meet with Nixon later in the day, after flying from Fairmont to Washington.

More Snow Seen For Buried East Vermont Emergency Declared

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Northeast struggled Monday to clean up from one of its worst winter storms on record. Vermont declared a state of emergency, and accumulations of snow and ice brought flooding in some areas and food and fuel shortages in others.

New York and the six New England states reported a total of 17 storm-related deaths.

Meanwhile, forecasters watched a new storm building over the Midwest and one Boston weatherman said: "If things follow the usual pattern, that system could clobber us about midweek."

Worst Winter

"My God, I don't know what we're going to do with it if we get any more snow," said a tired Mayor James F. Cleary in North Adams, Mass. "We don't have any place to put it."

Far to the southwest, a new snowstorm broke power lines and slickened highways in western Texas. The snowfall was expected to mount to 20 inches. Two traffic deaths were attributed to icy roads.

Cleary's worries were typical of almost every mayor in New England today as the region continued to struggle from beneath one of its worst winter storms.

Draft Call Up For February

19,000 Men Needed
After 4 Months
Of Lower Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today a draft call of 19,000 men in February, a sharp increase over January.

A Pentagon spokesman noted that the higher draft call for February follows four months of low quotas.

The February induction quota fits roughly into Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's prediction that draft calls for 1979 will total about 225,000 men, a decrease of about 65,000 from 1969.

The February quota, which will send 18,200 men into the Army and 800 in the Marines, compares with 12,500 in January.

Monthly draft calls last year ranged from 22,000 a month to more than 33,000 a month until the fall when President Nixon sharply cut them back, reflecting the growing momentum of the U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

The Pentagon stretched out the 29,000-man quota for October over the entire October-November-December period.

Under currently approved plans, the United States will have reduced its Vietnam commitment by more than 108,000 men as of mid-April. At the same time, the Pentagon has ordered a cutback of more than 280,000 in the over-all strength of the U.S. armed forces, reducing the need for draftees.

Meanwhile, the government has put into effect a new random selection system of drafting young men.

Nixon Signs Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed into law today the $4.8 billion housing bill designed to revitalize the public housing program and ease the impact of urban renewal on the poor.

The measure carries new one-year authorizations of funds tailored to help the U.S. meet the 10-year, 26-million-unit housing goal set in the 1968 Housing Act.

It contains a new provision requiring that, for each slum home or apartment razed as part of an urban renewal project, a new low-income dwelling unit would have to be built in the same city or county involved.

The holiday storm buried for 15 to 20 planes and helicopters to criss-cross Schoharie and slickened highways in western New York, where new snow, and gale-force winds drifts up to 15 feet high closed quickly whipped up drifts 20 and secondary roads.

Heavy rain followed the snow in most of New England and the runoff was more than some ice-choked rivers could handle.

Flooding forced hundreds of families from their homes in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine, where ice jams plugged a number of major rivers. All were reported receding today, however. In Maine, where the situation was most serious, state Civil Defense Director Leslie H. Stanley said the worst seemed past.

"We could be on the brink of trouble again if that new storm comes our way," a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers official said in Massachusetts. "We're playing it by ear."

The storm—New England's fourth in just over two weeks—dumped 48 inches of fresh snow on the small southern Vermont community of East Wallingford. That was on top of a mantle that already was two feet deep in some places.

Power and telephone failures were widespread through that weekend, but utility officials said most had been rectified. A building at the Coast Guard search and rescue station on Plum Island off the Newburyport, Mass., coast was abandoned Sunday when high tides washed away some 15 of the 21 feet of land between the building and the sea.

Parts of western Massachusetts received up to two feet of snow before the rains began, and snowmobiles were pressed into service for emergencies.

The Civil Air Patrol arranged hundreds were snowbound without fuel, and running low on food.

Relief Supplies
Helicopters, airplanes and ground vehicles, including snowmobiles, were pressed into service to locate stricken areas and deliver relief supplies.

Word was broadcast to outlying families in several counties to fashion distress signals snow that could be seen from the air and snowmobiles were pressed into service for emergencies.

Limousine Attacked

Manila Protesters Kept From Agnew

MANILA (AP) — Anti-American demonstrators attacked a limousine carrying U.S. Ambassador Henry Byrnes and his wife tonight, but riot police kept them away when Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and his wife arrived a short while later for a reception at the U.S. Embassy.

Several hundred riot police drove the crowd of more than 100 young leftists across the road from the embassy compound. The demonstrators chanted "Yankee Go Home," and marched up and down the Agnew's car drove into the compound with some 20 Secret Service agents running alongside.

Roaring and shouting, the demonstrators surrounded Byrnes' car and banged on it with their signs and fists. Several demonstrators jumped in front of the car, bringing it to a halt. More than 200 helmeted police forced the demonstrators back and at least two tear gas grenades were thrown. The car drove into the embassy compound.

The demonstrators handed out a leaflet saying they were members of the Free Philippine Youth Union and the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation, which is one of the more vocal opponents of U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Agnew arrived in Manila during the afternoon and told well-comers at the airport that the United States and the Philippines "stand together on the threshold of a new decade which holds challenge as well as brings promise for both of our nations."

Agnew brought greetings from President Nixon and a prediction that the 1970s "will see us reach a new mutual friendship which does honor to two great sovereign nations."

He stressed partnership between the two longtime friends in brief remarks at Manila International Airport. The Philippines is the first of 10 Asian countries Agnew is scheduled to visit during the next three weeks.

Along with his wife, Judy, Agnew's party of 40 included Apollo 10 astronaut Eugene A. Cernan, who will present President Ferdinand Marcos with pieces of moon rock and pictures of the Philippines taken from space.

Agnew said that since this is his first trip to Asia, "I am not in a position to make pronouncements on this part of the world." But he praised the Philippines for its development of representative government, free speech, free press and public education.

"You have meaningful debate over your national goals and how responsible nationalism can help you attain them," he said, adding that such assets "make this an excellent place for me to begin my on-the-spot Asian education."

The report said the investigation was initiated as a result of controversy arising from police raids on Panther headquarters in Chicago on Dec. 4 and in Los Angeles on Dec. 8.

The report mentioned "repeated arrests of Panthers" in Los Angeles, Chicago and other years ago by dumping his spare change in the gas tank of his old car.

Alan King's Office Looks Like Lawyer's

Scene Appropriate Since Comedian Holds Brief Against Establishment

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Alan King operates out of an office more befitting a lawyer than a comedian, from the paneled walls decorated with old maps, to the overflowing bookcases, to the wooden desk with an mahogany leather top and a pewter base lamp.

Nevertheless, it is appropriate, in a way, because King carries a brief for every person who has a grievance, real or imagined, against insurance companies, doctors, department stores, utilities and countless other institutions.

His wit has been aimed at the Establishment for 17 years.

"Cyclamates. They knew about it in 1956. It was when the mouse got sick that they got worried."

"We can land a man on the moon and you can't breathe the air."

"They transplant hearts, but you can't get a doctor on Wednesdays."

Do-Gooder Is Too Much Into Spirit of Thing

One good turn deserves another — sometimes.

For a 17-year-old Antigone girl, a good turn got her a badly upset stomach, a bump on the head, a hospital room and only half a trip to Milwaukee.

Appleton police were called to the Greyhound Bus Depot about 11 a.m. Saturday on a report that a girl fell and struck her head while getting off a bus.

She did. But it was because she had too much to drink.

Police took the girl to St. Elizabeth Hospital. They were told she was riding a bus to Milwaukee when a woman passenger asked her for a match.

She obliged and the woman gave her a nip from a bottle she had slipped aboard. As the bus rolled on, the girl got sick.

Police said she was "quite ill" by the time she got to the hospital.

Police notified her relatives in Antigone who indicated she would be returned home.

The woman with the bottle reportedly got off the bus in New London.

Don O'Connor Pays Visit to Carol Burnett

BY TV SCOUT
9-10 (Channels 2-7) — The Carol Burnett Show is its usual bright spot in the TV world. Kitchen commercials are spoofed with Carol as a harried housewife assaulted by talking appliances and lady plumbers. With Harvey Korman, she does the Old Folks on New Year's Eve ("Who would have thought we'd see 1970?" "Don't jinx us, we got three hours to go.") O'Connor are the guests and they all participate in a salute to MGM films, which give Donald, on his knees, a chance to play Andy Hardy, and Carol a crack at being Jean Harlow in "Red Dust," with Donald as Gable and Harvey as Lionel Barrymore.

6:30-7 (Channel 5) — There's some more of that deliciously sly and funny dialogue on My World and Welcome To It as John Monroe discovers to his surprise and horror that two young men are courting his daughter, Lydia. One retiree is too complicated to list here; however, as the result of an encounter with the stronger and larger of the two boys So, with cartoon flashbacks, John tells the weaker boy the story of his old grandfather.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7) —

(Gunsmoke is concerned with a young man who has seen his brother die in his arms after a raid on the prison van in which they were prisoners. The brother's gang did the shooting, to keep them from revealing where some stolen gold is to be sold. Our young hero, sympathetically played by Steve Carlson, agrees to help Dillon.

7-8 (Channel 5) — Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In adds regular number 947 to the cast, in the person of Lily Tomlin. She's the persistent telephone operator in one sketch, and the middle-of-the-roader in a spoof of political panel shows. Nancy Sinatra is the guest.

7:15-8 (Channels 11-9) — The New People would have you believe that there is a black separatist on the island who has established his very small colony with a corps that consists of one female (Judy Pace) and two other young men Wash (David Moses) finds the camp and is made prisoner.

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7) — Here's Lucy winds up with one of those patented wildly slapstick scenes surprise and horror that two young men are courting his daughter, Lydia. Town of Ellington Board Suggests Mobile Home Tax

STEPHENSVILLE — At a special meeting, the board of the Town of Ellington recommended a $12 tax for mobile homes. A motion was also made to have mobile homes assessed by the local assessor in 1970.

At the regular meeting building permits were granted to Mrs. Alvina Koepke for a home 19 by 55 feet on lot 8 block 26 and Melvin Wolf, a double garage 30 by 24 feet, section 23.

A letter was received from the health officer Dr. Keith Breyer asking that the owner of a house vacated by Dan Daniels make necessary improvements before renting.

Mrs. Helen Hoyer, treasurer, was bonded for collection of the 1969 tax roll with a communication from the county treasurer.

Estimated at 1,031 cigarettes or fewer than 202 packs. This was about seven packs less than in 1968.

Peak per capita consumption was 4,315 in 1963 before the impact of the U.S. surgeon general's report on smoking and health.

Officials said the per capita homes. A motion was also made to have mobile homes assessed even further in the coming year.

Foul Weather Helped Cut Traffic Deaths

Holiday Weekend
Toll of 581 Was
Lower Than Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bad weather throughout the nation may have aided in keeping the Christmas traffic death toll far below the 800 to 900 deaths predicted the National Safety Council says.

Council President Howard Pyle said the low total of 581 deaths for the four-day holiday period which ended at midnight Sunday may have been due to the poor traveling conditions which kept many off the roads.

Although the number of deaths was low, the price paid in terms of grief and tragedy was high.

A head-on collision near White River, S. D., killed seven persons, including a family of four in one car and two brothers in the other. Carey Shelton, 25, of Mission, S.D., his wife and daughter were killed along with Joseph Kerec, 18, his brother Richie, 15, and a friend, Bruce Harris, 16. The teenagers were from White River.

Three other teenagers were killed when their car blew a tire and smashed into a guardrail of a Kansas City highway.

Four members of a Jackson, Miss., family are dead as the result of a fiery two-car collision in Waltham County, Miss. Killed was Robert Weary, 49, his wife and two young sons.

Miss. Kathleen Dolata, 19, of Ripon, Wis., and her three children were killed when the car driven by her husband swerved off a road and skidded sideways into the rear of a parked truck near Davenport, Ill.

A car dragging down a Salt Lake City street struck and killed Miss. Sarah Ann Legman, 73. She was carrying a sack full of Christmas presents which were scattered along the street.

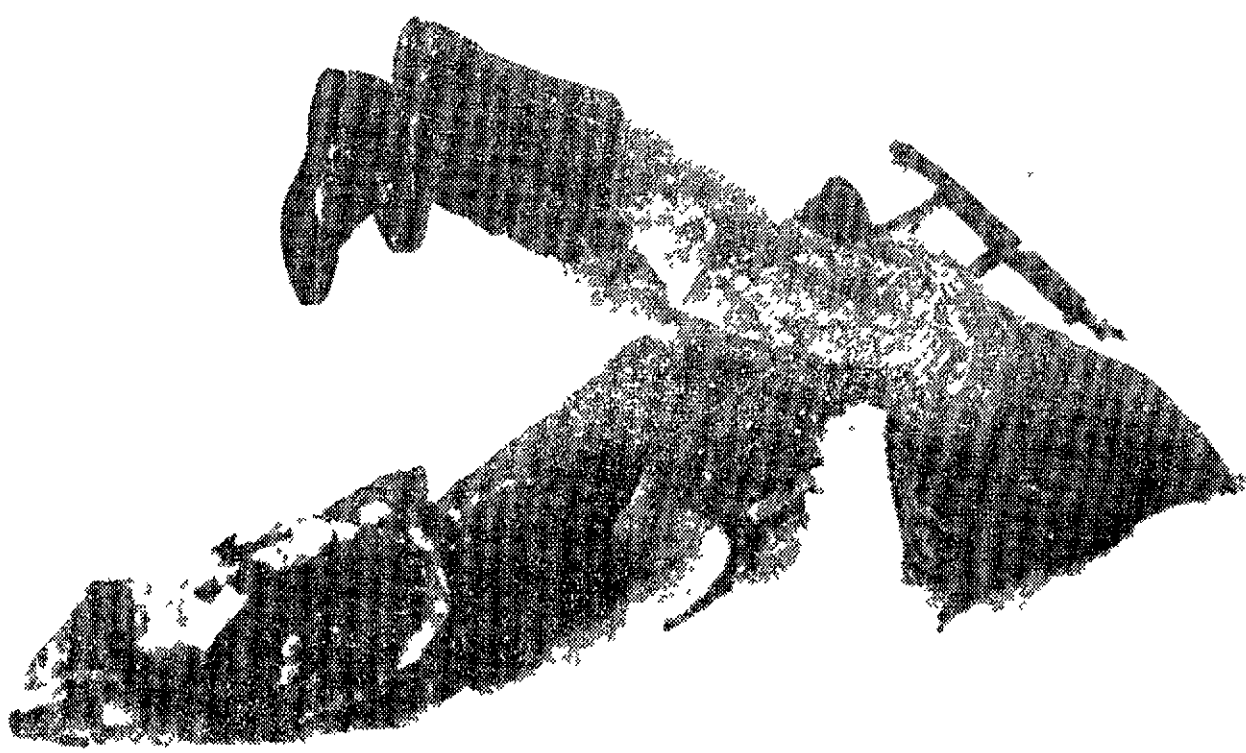

Nixon Indicates He Will Sign Tax Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon back at the White House after a brief trip to his nearby mountain retreat has indicated he will sign the tax reform bill before he leaves for a two-week winter vacation in California.

The measure falls $2.5 billion below the revenue he wanted. The administration now is hunting ways to trim spending to make up the shortfall.

Financial and foreign policy matters were reviewed by the President Sunday in discussions with aides John D. Ehrlichman and Henry A. Kissinger. Nixon will send his 1971 federal budget proposals to Congress in about a month.

Nixon, due to leave Tuesday for his home at San Clemente, Calif., went by helicopter to snowy Camp David Saturday night. His wife and their daughter Thelma accompanied him on the windy flight to the retreat in the Catoctin Mountains about 60 miles northwest of Washington.

1,000 Miners Strike to Press Nixon to Sign Safety Measure

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — More than 1,000 coal miners he said. We haven't yet seen struck a score of mines today to any picket action outside our press their demand for President Nixon to sign a federal coal mine health and safety bill.

A spokesman for the wide spread Consolidation Coal Co., the mines a delegation of mine owner or Consol No. 9 mine in Washington today headed for Wash. which 78 men were killed in a union to make a personal plea disaster 12 months ago said an for presidential approval of the unsuccessful attempt had been made by women pickets to close its 400-man Lovelock mine in the northern part of the state.

Although the striking miners claimed they would spread the wildest walkout across the nation's coal fields, the strike was slow to build momentum.

A similar walkout last winter idled West Virginia's 40,000 miners when grass-roots organizations were successful in pressuring for legislative approval of a state law providing compensation for pneumoconiosis, as respiratory ailment called black lung.

Fields Unaffected — A survey of the state's extensive coal fields, however, showed that today's strike had little effect outside of the Kanawha River Valley here and at two mines in the state's southern field in Logan County.

A spokesman for the Kanawha Valley Coal Association, representing member mine companies, said 20 mines had been closed by pickets. He estimated they employed a total of 1,200 men.

More Snow Seen For Buried East Vermont Emergency Declared

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The Northeast struggled Monday to clean up from one of its worst winter storms on record. Vermont declared a state of emergency and accumulations of snow and ice brought flooding in some areas and food and fuel shortages in others.

Meanwhile, forecasters watched a new storm building over the Midwest and one Boston weatherman said. If things follow the usual pattern, that system could clobber us about midweek.

"My God, I don't know what we're going to do with it if we get any more snow," said a tired Mayor James F. Cleary in North Adams, Mass. "We don't have any place to put it."

Worst Winter — Cleary's worries were typical of almost every mayor in New England today as the region continued to struggle from beneath one of its worst winter storms.

The holiday storm buried parts of northern New England beneath as much as four feet of new snow, and gale-force winds quickly whipped up drifts 20 and 30 feet high.

Vermont was worst hit. Gov. Deane C. Davis declared a state of emergency Sunday and ordered out the National Guard to help with snow removal.

Bitter cold spilled over the region today, making digging out more difficult.

Snow removal began bogging down in some areas because of equipment failures.

Plows Broke — Four plows broke down in North Adams during the night, and in neighboring Adams a trouble again if that new storm grader and snowblower development trouble. They been in almost constant use since Thursday night when the storm began.

And what's more, these guys — the fellows who drive the plows and the trucks and the snowblowers — they're tired, really exhausted, reported an official in Bennington, Vt. just over the state line from North Adams.

A Pentagon spokesman noted that the higher draft call for February follows four months of low quotas.

The February induction quota fits roughly into Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's prediction that draft calls for 1970 will total about 225,000 men, a decrease of about 65,000 from 1969.

The February quota, which will send 18,200 men into the Army and 800 in the Marines, compares with 12,500 in January.

Monthly draft calls last year ranged from 22,000 a month to more than 33,000 a month until the fall when President Nixon sharply cut them back, reflecting the growing momentum of the U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

The Pentagon stretched out the 29,000 man quota for October over the entire October-November-December period.

Under currently approved plans, the United States will have reduced its Vietnam commitment by more than 108,000 men as of mid-April. At the same time, the Pentagon has ordered a cutback of more than 260,000 in the overall strength of the U.S. armed forces reducing the need for draftees.

Meanwhile, the government has put into effect a new random selection system of drafting young men.

Thieu Expects War to Vanish — President Nguyen Van Thieu said in an interview published here today that he expects the Vietnam war to fade away within the next two or three years.

Thieu said his government now controls 90 per cent of the territory of South Vietnam, but the Communists would never of No 9 disaster urged the miners Saturday to pick up the old official slogan, "no law, no coal."

She said in a statement, though sign any kind of a treaty, the miners will be de-continued. Therefore it is very important for them that the war compensation for pneumoconiosis and until numbers will quietly and gradually draw to an end. I am not saving an end to the war is imminent, but it will be over in two or three years.

She headed a delegation of about nine widows who hoped to meet with Nixon later in the week after flying from Fauquier to Washington.

The interview was published here in the news magazine Der Spiegel.

The demonstrators handed out headquarters with an arrest warrant for one member but no police to initiate the crack search warrant.

After "smashing down the door" and failing to find the wanted man, the report said, he "broke up furniture, confiscated literature, lists of donors and petitions, and arrested eight Panthers on charges of flimsy they were later dismissed."

The report said the investigation was initiated as a result of a controversy arising from police raids on Panther headquarters in Chicago and Los Angeles on Dec. 4 and in Los Angeles on Dec. 8.

The report mentioned "repeated arrests of Panthers" in Los Angeles, Chicago and other cities "for distributing papers, illegal police activity listed by the ACLU report occurred in without a permit" as examples.

Heavy rain followed the snow in most of New England and the runoff was more than some ice-choked rivers could handle.

Flooding forced hundreds of families from their homes in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine, where ice jams plugged a number of major rivers. All were reported receding today, however.

In Maine, where the situation was most serious, state Civil Defense Director Leslie H. Stanley said the worst seemed past.

"We could be on the brink of a new storm if that new storm comes our way," a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers official said in Massachusetts. "We're playing it by ear."

The storm—New England's fourth in just over two weeks—dumped 48 inches of fresh snow on the small southern Vermont community of East Wallingford. That was on top of a mantle that already was two feet deep in some places.

Power and telephone failures were widespread through that weekend, but utility officials said most had been rectified.

A building at the Coast Guard Plum Island off the Newburyport Mass. coast was abandoned Sunday when high tides washed away some 15 of the 21 feet of land between the building and the sea.

Parts of western Massachusetts received up to two feet of snow before the rains began, and snowmobiles were pressed into service for emergencies.

Twelve deaths in the six-state region were attributed to the storm.

Word was broadcast to out-living families in several counties to fashion distress signals which could be seen from the air and snowmobiles were pressed into service for emergencies.

Limousine Attacked Manila Protesters Kept From Agnew

MANILA (AP) — Anti-American demonstrators attacked a limousine carrying U.S. Ambassador Henry Byrd and his wife tonight but not police kept them away when Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and his wife arrived a short while later for a reception at the U.S. Embassy.

Several hundred riot police drove the crowd of more than 100 young leftists across the road from the embassy compound. The demonstrators chanted "Yankee Go Home," and marched up and down the Agnew's car drove into the compound with some 20 Secret Service agents running alongside.

Booing and shouting, the demonstrators surrounded Byrd's limousine and banged on it with their signs and fists. Several demonstrators jumped in front of the car, bringing it to a halt. More than 200 helmeted police forced the demonstrators back and at least two tear gas grenades were thrown. The car drove into the embassy compound.

Agnew brought greetings from President Nixon and a prediction that the 1970s "will see us reach a new mutual friendship which does honor to two great sovereign nations."

Agnew arrived in Manila during the afternoon and told well-wishers at the airport that the United States and the Philippines "stand together on the threshold of a new decade which holds challenge as well as brings promise for both of our nations."

Agnew brought greetings from President Nixon and a prediction that the 1970s "will see us reach a new mutual friendship which does honor to two great sovereign nations."

He stressed partnership between the two longtime friends in brief remarks at Manila International Airport. The Philippines is the first of 10 Asian countries Agnew is scheduled to visit during the next three weeks.

Along with his wife, Judy, Agnew's party of 40 included Apollo 10 astronaut Eugene A. Cernan, who will present President Ferdinand Marcos with pieces of moon rock and pictures of the Philippines taken from space.

Agnew said that since this is his first trip to Asia, "I am not in a position to make pronouncements on this part of the world." But he praised the Philippines for its development of representative government, free speech, free press and public education.

"You have meaningful debate over your national goals and how responsible nationalism can help you attain them," he said, adding that such assets "make this an excellent place for me to begin my on-the-spot Asian education."

Bank in Gas Tank — Johnston, S.C. (AP) — Millworker Parks Whisenant started saving for a new car two years ago by dumping his spare coins in the gas tank of his old car.

He emptied the novel bank the other day, and it contained $800.

Civil Liberties Probe

No Conspiracy Against Panthers

NEW YORK (AP) — An American Civil Liberties Union report says the Black Panthers have been subjected to illegal police harassment and denied constitutional rights but it found no evidence that any federal conspiracy was involved.

Across the country law enforcement officials are waging a drive against the black militant organization resulting in serious civil liberties violations," stated Wilkins, NAACP national director.

The report, based on an ACLU survey of nine metropolitan areas and reports from 18 ACLU affiliates, said the evidence does "not prove a direct national campaign to get the Panthers."

Alternate Link Urged As Milwaukee Tie To Eastern Interstate Stadium Expressway Key to Proposal

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Fox Valley residents would have multi-lane access more directly to Milwaukee County Stadium for Packer games if a State Highway Commission plan takes root.

Wesley Burmeister, state highway engineer, said Sunday a short, existing freeway—the Stadium Freeway—could serve as the key to Milwaukee's link with a 105-mile interstate highway that is to be built to Green Bay.

A few miles to the east of the stadium is the North-South Freeway, which until recently had been considered a likely candidate for inclusion in the interstate system.

But Burmeister said the North-South would need reconstruction to be adequate with the increased traffic load it would carry if the interstate were routed over it.

If the abbreviated Stadium Freeway were designated an interstate highway instead, any extension of the freeway into northern Milwaukee County would provide a link with the superhighway to be built south from Green Bay.

"We have not made a formal decision yet, but we are thinking along these lines," Burmeister said. "When the appropriate time comes, we will make such a recommendation."

The North-South Freeway has served as a gauge in the cost calculations for the Green Bay Expressway. The estimated price tag ranges from $92 million to $100 million.

With interstate designation, the government pays 90 per cent of the bill and the state only 10 per cent.

Without interstate designation, Milwaukee County taxpayers would have to pay for extending the Stadium Freeway to the north.

"Better Access"

Burmeister said the Stadium Freeway route, still in the planning stage, promises better interstate highway access through Ozaukee and Washington counties.

Burmeister said plans being submitted to the government will include both freeways as alternatives. The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads makes the final decisions.

Choosing the Stadium Freeway route rather than the North-South Freeway route, he said, would increase the cost of the 105-mile highway to Green Bay.

The route to Green Bay, running east of Lake Winnebago, would raise Wisconsin's interstate mileage to 562 miles.

Green Bay Hearings

Hearings begin Jan. 21 in Green Bay on local alternatives for the route.

Officials have said that, with luck, the highway could be built by 1975.

The North-South Freeway, which merges with Interstate 94 in downtown Milwaukee, carries U.S. 141 north to Ozaukee County and south.

3,000 District Employers

VTE-12 to Survey Manpower Trends

A questionnaire to determine trends in manpower needs will be mailed to all employers in Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12) in the coming week.

The survey is the initial phase of a program needed for long-range curriculum planning for the district and was approved at the December meeting of the VTE-12 board.

The second phase will come when all of the information gathered will be made available to the guidance and vocational counselors in district high schools for distribution to students who are making career choices.

According to Dominic Bordini, head of research and planning for VTE-12, who made the presentation, such an occupational study proposal has been conducted in several other districts of the state.

Technological Changes

"Due to the constant technological changes in business, agriculture and industry, this type of job information is very valuable," Bordini explained.

"Once the survey is completed, we are able to provide guidelines and direction for training programs for employers and employees to upgrade their current curricula," he added.

In the survey, employers will be asked to indicate the various trends in manpower needs, list the job titles and the openings projected between 1970 and 1975.

Also requested will be the type and amount of education required to fill the potential job openings.

"Specifically, we will be asking if it is on-the-job training, apprenticeship indenture or the requirements of a one-year vocational or an associate degree type of education and training that is needed," the VTE-12 official said.

200 Employes

About 3,000 business, industrial, agricultural and public

employers will be polled through the project.

Any firm with more than 200 employees (of which there are 65 in the district) will be contacted personally by the field services division of VTE-12.

The survey, conducted in co-operation with the state employment service, will cover any firm that has two or more employees, Bordini said.

The sole area which will be excluded by this survey will be medical occupations. A complete survey in this field was completed a year ago by VTE-12 officials. The information has been documented and will be used to implement new programs in the upcoming curricula, especially when the new school is completed, Bordini said.

Area Needs

"We have conducted occupational surveys before in certain employment areas, beginning in 1967 when the district was formed. We had to in order to

Forest Service to Implement Work-Study College Plan

University doors may be open to low-income students in Wisconsin during 1970 under a work-study program developed by the United States Forest Service.

The forest service has signed a cooperative agreement with the Wisconsin State University Board of Regents to provide summer work and part-time jobs for students.

Under the plan, the forest service pays 20 per cent of the tab and financial grants cover 80 per cent of the cost of hiring students, according to Don Gorton, forest service information officer.

The statewide program was started after a pilot program was tested at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. The plan will be expanded to include universities and branches at Oshkosh, Stevens Point, Superior, Eau Claire, Menomonee, Park Falls, has 1,032,000 acres.

There are 275 full-time forest service employees in the two forests and 269 employees at the regional headquarters in Milwaukee.

Program Tested

The test program was initiated March 28, 1968, to attract low-income and minority group students to forest service work.

"It's been working out really well," Miss Susan Johnson, work-study supervisor at the university, reports. "It's probably a pretty large factor in assuring them (low-income students) of going back to school," she adds.

Under the trial plan, students are paid from $1.90 to $2.20 per hour while working for the forest service. Awards, based on need, are "tailored to the individual student," according to Miss Johnson.

A recent study on the Milwaukee campus showed 52.1 per cent of the students are working in part-time, Mrs. Nancy Eichsteadt, director of student financial aids, notes.

Use Other Sources

"With what they can glean from other sources and this (the forest service plan) they sometimes can get all the way through," she says.

Under the new program, forestry and engineering students are being sought to work in national forests in Wisconsin, according to Gorton.

The Nicolet National Forest with headquarters at Rhinelander totals 942,000 acres, while the Chequamegon National Forest with headquarters at

Program Grows in State

School Meals Are Popular

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Meals served at school for all of the million or more elementary and high school pupils of Wisconsin?

Such a program probably is coming, says the State Department of Public Instruction in a review of the school lunch program launched more than 30 years ago as a means of surplus produce disposal.

In the last school year, the school lunch programs served more than 351,000 children, or about a third of those enrolled in all Wisconsin schools.

Breakfast Program

A late extension of the food at school idea is a school breakfast program that is spreading among school districts where officials are aware of large numbers of needy children or bused-in pupils who arrive in early morning and demand a special approach to combat malnutrition.

The department noted that increasing numbers of high schools offer older students alternate choice menus, and that students are encouraged to involve themselves in the planning process of the school meal services.

Hospital Memorial

Christmas Is Special For Waupaca Family

WAUPACA — Christmas had a very special meaning for members of the Mrs. Phyllis Schroeder family this year when they quietly received a tribute to their late husband and father Harold from businessmen of the community.

Funds have been contributed in Harold Schroeder's name for the new cardiac room at Community Hospital.

The hospital now has a monitoring system, two beds, other equipment and trained personnel for victims of heart disorder.

The machines in the two-bed room, which now bears Schroeder's name, are linked up directly with the cardiac center at Theda Clark Hospital, Neenah. The information is transmitted there and specialists are able to confer, minute-by-minute, with the local doctor handling the case.

Schroeder was the victim of a heart attack July 19, 1964. He died in the ambulance taking him to a Stevens Point hospital.

He had been an automobile agency dealer in Waupaca for 24 years. He was fire chief 10 years and one of the charter members in the formation of the city's industrial development commission.

Schroeder also was a Mason and Shriner and served as a Boy Scout executive.

Tax Bills Sent To Residents Of Stockbridge

STOCKBRIDGE — A total of 305 tax bills, calling for $68,523 were mailed to village taxpayers there Saturday, according to clerk-treasurer Carl Reichwald.

Reichwald will collect taxes at the State Bank of Stockbridge from 6 to 8 p.m. on Fridays from Jan. 9 to Feb. 27. Those paying taxes on the installment plan must pay half by Jan. 31 and the balance to the Calumet County treasurer by July 31. Taxes amounting to less than $20 must be paid in full.

Deadline for paying personal property taxes is Jan. 31 with real estate taxes due in full by Feb. 28.

Payment may be made by mail anytime before the deadline.

Three Injured On Toboggan

Farmington Youths Slide Into Path Of Oncoming Car

WAUPACA — Three Town of Farmington youths escaped serious injury Christmas morning when the toboggan they were riding crossed Hartman Creek Road into the path of an oncoming car.

Larry O'Connor, 14, route 1 and Jacqueline Rusch, 13, route 1, were taken to Riverside Community Hospital by ambulance for treatment of head cuts. Edwin Rusch, 18, was taken to the hospital later in the day by his mother Mrs. James Rusch, route 1, Waupaca. A fourth passenger on the toboggan was unnamed.

Details of the accident were not released by county traffic officers until Sunday. According to their report four were riding a toboggan on the west side of Hartman Creek and came down from the side hill in front of a northbound car driven by William Albright, route 4, Waupaca.

The three are reported to be in satisfactory condition today at Riverside Hospital.

Cars Crash on Slippery Roads In New London

NEW LONDON — Slippery roads were blamed for several hundred dollars damages to three cars in two separate accidents in New London, Sunday.

At 1:20 p.m., cars driven by Webb A. Schrader, 16, Deerfield, Ill., and Donna M. Zimmerman, 28, route 1, Bear Creek, collided on U.S. 45 about a 1/4 mile from the intersection of State 54.

Schrader reportedly lost control of his auto when it hit the shoulder of the road, and slid into the path of the Zimmerman auto.

The left rear side of the Schrader auto and the front of the Zimmerman auto were damaged.

At 4:15 p.m. the front of an auto driven by Julie Ann Beauclair, 16, 440 Oak St., Town of Horton was damaged.

Miss Beauclair was making a right turn, when she lost control of her auto and struck a street light pole on N. Pearl Street.

'Bipartisan Failure'

Both Parties Bear Attack From Obey

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Both the Republican Administration and the Democrat-controlled Congress took their licks today from Rep. David Obey of Wausau, a Democrat.

Addressing the Wisconsin Rapids Rotary Club at the Mead Inn this noon, Obey declared there has been "a bipartisan failure in Washington to put first things first and a bipartisan failure to do much more than hide time."

The Seventh District congressman said both the legislative and executive branches of government moved at a pace he considers to be "one of the slowest on record."

Criticizes Nixon

He criticized President Nixon's pace in presenting his budget proposal. "Any new administration had the right to submit its proposals and its own budget priorities. But the length of delay by the current Administration was almost unprecedented," Obey said.

He said the budget was sent to Congress in April, but the full Nixon legislative program was not presented until October. The draft reform bill arrived Aug. 13, the foreign aid bill June 9, the poverty program June 12.

"We never did receive a comprehensive crime control program and we are still waiting for inflation control proposals," Obey added.

Obey listed achievements by Congress in five major areas, including credit control powers for the executive branch as an anti-inflation measure; the tax reform bill; quadrupling of the Administration's request for municipal sewage cleanup funds; reductions of $5 billion in the Administration arms budget, and addition of $1 billion to the Administration request for education funds.

But, Obey added, those accomplishments have not "earned any gold stars" for Congress either. He said immediate need exists in areas of health, environmental protection, hunger, housing, education and help for the aging.

Moon Shot Luxury

Obey said, "These problems must be dealt with before we can afford the luxury of extra moon shots and SST's (supersonic transport planes). Obviously during a period of 6 per cent annual inflation we cannot afford to spend more money at the federal level. That is why it is doubly important that we begin now to cut unnecessary spending in nonessential areas and begin to put first things first."

Accidents on State's Roads Claim Nine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deaths of nine persons in Wisconsin traffic accidents since the start of the Christmas holiday period Wednesday evening raised the state's 1969 highway fatality figure to 1,127 today compared with 1,166 on the same day in record 1968.

Miss Glenda C. LaRock, 21, of Manitowoc was fatally injured Sunday when struck by a car on a highway between Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

John Ellis, 59, a Milwaukee father of 16 children, died Friday when struck by a car as he crossed a street.

Joseph Vandeplasch, 25, of Manchester died Saturday in a car-truck collision on a fog-shrouded Green Lake County highway.

A Waukesha woman, Mary Flood, 75, died Friday after a two-car crash.

A Milwaukee nun, Sister Marie Glynn, 72, was fatally injured Friday when struck by a car at an intersection.

A two-car crash Friday night in Racine claimed the life of Michael Dvorak, 19, Franksville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Schacht of West Bend died in a three-car crash in Washington County early Friday.

Warren LeMahieu, 40, of Sheboygan died in a Friday accident.

There's No Question about which side of the garage is used by Mr. or Mrs. Richard Hintz, route 1, Stevens Point. The important thing now is to make sure one uses the right driveway. (Sroda Photo)

Police & Fire Beat

CHILTON — Weekend accident victims in Calumet County left unable to turn in time to property damage and two people avoid an accident with minor injuries.

Thomas H. Jacobson, 22, of 421 E. South St., Viroqua, escaped injuries when the car he was driving about 1:45 a.m. in Hilbert Saturday hit the rear of a switch train as it crossed the railroad.

One person was injured in a two-car accident about 1:15 a.m. Sunday two miles north of Hilbert. Daron M. Hennricks, 47, Reedsville, was traveling east on County Trunk B, applied her brakes for a stop sign and struck the car of James M. Rolf, 19, of route 2, Reedsville, who had stopped at the stop sign. Hennricks claimed that his brakes failed.

Dorene Vogel, 17, Brillion, a passenger in the Rolf auto, sustained cuts to her head. Another passenger, Kathy Rolf, 18, of route 2, Reedsville, was taken to the hospital for observation and released.

One person was injured in a two-car accident Sunday at 12:05 a.m. a half a mile east of Hilbert on Hilbert Road. Kenneth J. Dix, 18, route 1, Hilbert, sustained mouth cuts and broken teeth.

According to the Calumet County traffic report, Dix was heading east on the Hilbert Road, lost control of his auto and hit a bridge. Another auto, driven by Patrick T. Halbach, 17, route 2, Hilbert, was heading west on the Hilbert Road and did not see the Dix auto and slid into it.

NEW LONDON — Over $100 damage was incurred in a two-car crash, on U.S. 45 in New London, Friday night.

The front end of an auto driven by David A. Johnson, 19, Oak St., Shiocton was extensively damaged when he struck the rear of an auto driven by Steven J. Ourada, 22, route 1, Shiocton.

The Ourada auto had stopped to make a left turn, and suspended, but letters deposited at the post office or in the lobby drop will be dispatched according to the holiday schedule.

2 Arrested Hours After Holdup of Bank in Curtiss

NEILLSVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Two men were taken into custody Friday evening, a few hours after the holdup of the Owen-Curtiss State Bank at Curtiss.

The Clark County sheriff's office said the men, arrested on Highway 29 west of Abbotsford, were lodged in the county jail at Neillsville.

Formal charges may be filed today, the office said. A spokesman for the bank said an undetermined amount of money was taken by two men who entered the bank about 7 p.m. and demanded money.

The men held their hands in coat pockets as if they held weapons, the spokesman said, but no shots were fired.

A teller, Mrs. Susan Ryba, and her daughter, Karen, 6, were the only persons in the bank when the men entered.

6 Filipinos Dead In Holiday Clash

MANILA (AP) — Six Filipinos were gunned to death Christmas night just outside the big U.S. Clark Air Base.

Press accounts said three of the men were in a new car they had stolen from a U.S. Air Force captain and the other three were in a Jeep-taxi behind the car.

Police said the killers were believed to be private security police but they had not been arrested. Police began an investigation of relations between the slain men and the men who fired at them.

Thefts Cause Church To Lock Its Doors

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A downtown Roman Catholic cathedral, has started locking its doors to worshippers at dusk because of vandalism and thievery, a spokesman said recently.

"As soon as it gets dark, the doors are locked," said the Rev. Frank Capo, assistant pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Cathedral, two blocks from the city's brightly lighted gambling casinos.

He said everything from Christmas trees to newspapers has been taken. The rectory was burglarized of $900 in cash and property in August.

The candle offering box recently was smashed to get at coins inside.

Maybe Many Times

Universe Larger Yet, Experts Say

WASHINGTON (AP) — The universe may be several times larger than previously believed, astronomers say after studying observations made in the first year of the space agency's Orbiting Astronomical Observatory.

The 4,400-pound OAO2, described by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as the most complex unmanned spacecraft ever orbited, has been studying the sky in a nearly circular orbit 480 miles above the earth. This is well beyond the obscuring effects of the atmosphere.

NASA made public some of the findings since the OAO was launched last Dec. 7: "Galaxies Brighter"

"In studying the ultraviolet radiation from stars and galaxies, which does not penetrate earth's atmosphere, OAO2 discovered that many galaxies are much brighter in this radiation than astronomers had expected."

"This unexpectedly bright ultraviolet radiation means that some of the very distance galaxies are intrinsically extremely bright objects. Since they appear so faint they must be very far away, perhaps several times farther than was previously assumed."

"OAO2 has confirmed that hot stars lose as much as the sun's total mass in the relatively short astronomical period of 100,000 years, or the equivalent of the earth's mass in a single year."

"Hottest Hotter"

"The space observatory has established that the hottest stars are somewhat hotter than has been inferred from ground-based observations. Similarly, some slightly cooler stars are cooler than has been assumed."

NASA said many man-made models of the universe assume a considerable amount of unobserved matter and added that the OAO2 result indicate that, if this extra mass exists, it does not radiate in the ultraviolet.

"A consequence of this observation may be that the universe is not a closed system as predicted by Einstein's theory of general relativity," NASA said.

In summing up the importance of the first-year findings of the satellite, NASA said its achievements have led some astronomers to rank the orbiting of OAO2 in importance with the invention of the telescope.

Second Set of Twins Arrives on Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Obie Ogene gave birth to her second set of twins on Christmas Day. Her first twins were born Thanksgiving Day 1968. Each holiday she had a girl and a boy.

Her obstetrician remarked, "Next time we may aim for Easter."

Good Deed Brings Gift Of $100 to Deaf School

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The good deed of a woman at the Los Angeles International Airport is going to result in a $100 Christmas gift to the Central Institute for the Deaf in St. Louis.

Marine Lance Cpl. Patrick A. Fogerty, 19, of St. Louis, said he was $12 short of airfare home from Camp Pendleton, Calif., last Thursday when a woman stepped forward and offered the money.

Fogerty asked the woman for her name and address so he could repay her but was given only the name of the institute.

He said he will send $100 from his savings account to the school.

Prisoners Who Made Cider Get No Apples

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The traditional holiday stick of candy and some fruit were passed out to prisoners at the Shelby County Jail.

But this year's package contained no apples. Last year Obie Ogene gave birth to her second set of twins on Christmas and converted them into mas Day. Her first twins were hard cider.

Wounded GI at Kaukauna Home
KAUKAUNA — Army Spec. 5 Daniel A. Nagan, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Nagan, 312 E. Eighth St., arrived home Wednesday from Vietnam, where he was wounded in an enemy rocket attack. An electrical component and radio repairman for helicopters of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, Nagan entered the armed forces in September, 1968, after graduating from Kaukauna High School. He was assigned to Vietnam one year later. Nagan sustained serious injuries to his right leg when a rocket hit the hangar in which he was working at Quan Loi, Dec. 11. He returns Saturday to Great Lakes Naval Hospital, Chicago, for surgery.

War Widow, Protester On Winning AP Photos

Among photos receiving votes was a picture of a youngster grimacing as he received a skin test, taken by Edward J. Deschler Jr. of The Post-Crescent.

Markers Along State Roads to Locate Mishaps

Program Underway To Install 36,000 Signs by Next Year

MADISON — Reference markers currently being installed by the state division of highways will aid policemen in determining the exact location of traffic mishaps.

The markers along state roads give the highway number, its cardinal direction and its reference point number. They will be placed at county lines, bridges, intersections, township lines and section lines, and accidents will be located by giving the reference point number, plus or minus the number of feet from the marker.

When the program is completed in December, 1970, 36,000 markers will have been installed in the state. Leonard E. Rodeghier, Wisconsin Rapids, district four traffic supervisor, says installation along U.S. 10 is nearly complete.

Marker numbers and distances are being programmed into a computer in Madison so that it will be possible to locate the precise distance, for example, from a marker in downtown Stevens Point to one in downtown Wisconsin Rapids, according to Rodeghier.

The markers will be permanently located, not changing when highways are relocated or reconstructed. Locations were established after an aerial photo mapping survey.

Car Reported Stolen Found in Ditch on 41

NEENAH — A car reported stolen about 12:45 p.m. Saturday was located in the ditch at U.S. 41 and Winneconne Avenue late the same afternoon.

The car, owned by Ronald Nuernberg, 307 High St., was apparently taken Friday from his garage.

The winners were determined in a poll among Wisconsin members of The Associated Press.

Ralph Eichholz, a staff photographer of the Waukesha Freeman, took the poignant picture of the grieving war widow, clutching her husband's military cap as she read the tragic message telling of his death.

The woman is Mrs. Cheree Poff, whose husband was Pfc. John R. Poff.

Ned Vespa, a Journal Co. staff photographer, took the Milwaukee Sentinel picture on the Capitol grounds at Madison, showing a demonstrator attaching a balloon to a guardsman's bayoneted rifle as the welfare protest leader, Father James Groppi, watched.

The two pictures each received 40 points in a poll on the basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second and so on.

Monthly Winners

The nominees were winners of The Associated Press Picture of the Month awards during 1969 for news and feature photos taken by the staff photographers of AP member newspapers.

Runnerup in the picture of the year poll with 30 points was a news shot showing Milwaukee Bucks owner Wes Pavolon leaping for joy after winning a coin flip, entitling his club to UCLA All-America center Lew Alcindor in the National Basketball Association draft.

Heart Ailment Cited in Death Of Woman, 21

A heart ailment was given as the tentative cause of death Sunday morning of a 21-year-old Appleton woman.

Linda C. Laszewski, 1748 N. Harriman St., was dead on arrival at Appleton Memorial Hospital, where she was taken by the fire department rescue squad about 9 a.m.

Members of her family found her unconscious on her bedroom floor.

Police were told that Miss Laszewski had worked until 10 p.m. Saturday and apparently was not ill when she went to bed. She had undergone a physical examination about two months ago.

A final ruling on the cause of death cannot be made until laboratory tests have been completed, according to C. J. Schink, Outagamie County deputy coroner.

However, a postmortem examination revealed that Miss Laszewski suffered from a heart defect, Schink said.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Wichmann Funeral Home.

Reference Markers are being placed along state highways to aid authorities in determining the exact location of traffic accidents. The marker includes the highway number, cardinal direction and a reference point, such as the sign at the U.S. 10 bridge over the Wisconsin River. (Sroda Photo)

In Time for End-of-Year Payment

Appleton's Tax Bills Are in the Mail

Appleton's 20,865 tax bills went into the mail about noon Saturday and should arrive at taxpayers' addresses today.

Treasurer Ray Feuerstein announced that his City Hall office would accept payments beginning at 9 a.m. today.

Taxpayers who prefer to pay before the end of the year will be able to pay in person from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. today and Tuesday, and from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday.

Mailed payments will be accepted as paid in 1969 if they are postmarked before midnight Wednesday.

Feuerstein's office was aided by members of City Clerk Elden Broehm's staff in preparing the bills for mailing.

A total of 19,129 real estate and 1,736 personal property tax bills were mailed this year.

They represent revenues for the coming year totalling $11,543,942 in taxes, and in addition $626,555 in special assessments against some properties.

Taxes on real estate total $10,337,485 in the Outagamie County portion of the city and $424,036 in the Calumet County portion. Personal property taxes total $778,326 in Outagamie and $4,095 in Calumet.

In addition to the net taxes paid by property owners, state sales tax credit provides $1,485,233 into relief.

Taxes may be paid in installments or in full. Installment payment deadlines are Jan. 31, April 30 and July 31, 1970. Full payments must be received by Feb. 28. Persons paying in installments must pay exact amounts shown on the tax bills, Feuerstein reminded.

He also asked persons paying by mail to send the entire tax bill with their payment.

Schwarzbauer to Run for Assessor

Alderman Is First Candidate for Post Vacant Since Pierre's Death

Tenth Ward Ald. George Schwarzbauer has announced his candidacy for Appleton assessor in next April's special election to fill the vacant post.

At the same time, Schwarzbauer announced that he will be unavailable to run for reelection for the city council post since the death last fall of John A. Pierre.

Nomination papers for city elective posts to be filled next April can be circulated after Jan. 1. Schwarzbauer is the second publicly announced candidate and the first for the assessor's job.

Sends Letter

Schwarzbauer said in a letter to the mayor, council and city clerk, "I hope this early announcement will encourage sincere and intelligent people to

High Cliff Is Busy With Winter Sports

Enthusiasts Throng Park to Enjoy Seasonal Activities

SHERWOOD — Activities at High Cliff State Park are not limited to the warm days of summer.

Recent snowfalls have added to the winter activities and the visits of nature lovers who enjoy the scenic area cloaked in a mantle of white.

Snowmobiling at the upper level is popular with many area enthusiasts who find abundant acreage to ride; while those given to hiking, walk the nature trails, and take a panoramic view of Lake Winnebago.

The lightly clad visitors frequenting the campgrounds, swimming beach and picnic areas a few months ago now have been replaced with folks in fur-lined boots, parkas, insulated underwear and winter toggery.

Youngsters come to the park with sleighs and toboggans to ride the slopes and ice fishermen go onto Lake Winnebago from the lower level.

Winter or summer, visitors come to High Cliff to enjoy the season's outdoor attractions.

A Good Compromise on ORAP-200

When the Assembly reconvenes in Madison on January 5 it will decide the fate of ORAP-200. This is the program for clean water and a finer outdoors in Wisconsin. Last April citizens voted in favor of both — $144-million in bonds for pollution control and $56-million in bonds for outdoor recreation programs. The first passed overwhelmingly, the second substantially.

Although the people have spoken, there is a legislative hangup on the issue. It involves recreation bonding. The Senate approved it after compromise. The Assembly knocked it out completely, deleting the entire $56-million.

The Assembly leadership which engineered the knockout is principally motivated by opposition to state land buying. As a peripheral reason they cite lack of development of lands already publicly owned.

Although the validity of this motivation can be argued, it does accurately reflect the present attitude of many rural constituencies. The rural-urban split is quite evident in referendum figures even though the statewide vote of 361,630 to 322,882 favored recreation. A breakdown shows 56 of Wisconsin's 100 Assembly districts want recreation bonding — a majority, mostly urban. It also shows the rural influence — 51 of 72 counties were opposed.

The land acquisition and development controversy is the central issue and the Assembly reacted by junking everything.

Over in the Senate, however, which faced the same set of facts and the same controversy, reaction was quite different. Senators resolved the land and development fight by a compromise so satisfactory that the entire ORAP-200 program, including recreation, passed by an unanimous vote. Like any really good piece of work, the compromise is simple. It diverts all of ORAP-200's land buying money for the next biennium to development. This amounts to $4-million, a substantial shot in the arm for development. Meanwhile, land acquisition would remain at the pre-ORAP-200 level. All the rest of ORAP-200's benefits remain untouched in the Senate version. Included is $36-million in recreational aids to local communities. Every town could use a piece of that and would also gain from stepped-up development in nearby state areas. There are many other programs like coho salmon, youth camps, tourist information centers and lake construction projects, all too good to junk when such a workable compromise is at hand.

The Assembly has not had an opportunity to vote on the Senate changes. The opportunity will come January 5. Assemblymen should accept the Senate version of ORAP-200. It is a compromise for recreation that will help all Wisconsin and a rare chance for rural-urban cooperation that will benefit both.

Youth Needs More Models

The ever-increasing use of drugs among young people is probably one of the most serious problems in our society today. It is reassuring to hear at least one expert in the field point out that "we've got to take our minds off of laws and drugs, and put them on the problems of the people who take drugs."

Dr. D. A. Treffert, superintendent of Winnebago State Hospital, recently told a Neenah audience that legislation alone is not the answer. He pointed out that drugs are readily available today. "If we want to find out why kids take drugs, we have to listen to them before we bring in all the experts, psychiatrists and computers." In his opinion about 80 per cent of those who take drugs are merely experimenting or protesting against current values in our society while the other 20 per cent are seriously disturbed or think they need something to expand their minds. He also pointed to the extensive advertising of legal drugs as virtual cure-alls. "What the younger generation needs today are less critics and more models."

There is little doubt that quite a number of our young people no longer have respect for their elders. To some extent the disregard, even the contempt, is unjustified. There are plenty of people over thirty who are also deeply concerned about the directions this nation has taken in the last couple of decades, about our confusion over urban problems and the war, or who are turning to deeper religious attitudes and restructuring their standards.

But as Dr. Treffert pointed out, there is a sad lack of communication. The problems young people have today in our affluent society or in the city ghettos, are not the same as those of their parents who grew up in the Depression or during World War II. The solutions cannot be the same either.

There should be stern penalties for those convicted of pushing drugs, and young people should agree since this is a form of the exploitation which they criticize. But finding out why people turn to even the wrong use of substances such as glue or cold tablets is the only way ever to curb the practices.

Asians Beginning To Help Themselves

President Nixon has several times spoken of the need for Asian countries in particular to take more responsibility for their own defenses and development. A recent talk by Marshall Green, Assistant Secretary for East Asian and Pacific Affairs, emphasizes this policy of the current Administration in Washington.

Mr. Green spoke before the Japan-American Conference of Mayors and Chambers of Commerce Presidents in California. He described the various regional arrangements in Asia. There is the Mekong Committee, a group of twenty-eight nations, including the Asian ones of Thailand, Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam, which is aimed at developing the Mekong River Valley. Mr. Green pointed out that even when relations among these nations are strained, such as Cambodia's ire at her neighbors, the program has continued. There is the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East which created the Asian Development Bank. There are the Asian and Pacific Council, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and the Southeast Asian Economic Ministers Conference, all of which Mr. Green pointed out are exclusively Asian in membership. All are involved in projects which would be of common benefit to Southeast Asia. There is also the Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Council which is concentrating on long range projects such as regional centers for tropical medicine, research in agriculture, tropical biology and the training of English-language teachers.

But Mr. Green also said that "improvements in regional cooperation have not been extensive in the field of mutual security. In fact, the security structure of East Asia has not altered much in the past 15 years and I do not expect to see any formal security arrangements, at least in the near future." And while Mr. Green did not say so, there seem to be two major reasons for this failure. One, has been the extensive presence in Asia of the American military. Another is the development of sometimes almost fanatical nationalism among the Asian nations which to some extent reduces their ability to cooperate for their own security.

Mr. Green suggested at least that things are going to change. "While United States interests in the area remain essentially the same and our commitments will be honored, we recognize that there is a change in the mood of the American people. They are cautious about undertaking new commitments. They are becoming somewhat impatient with carrying what many consider to be a disproportionate share of the burden of military security and economic assistance abroad. They are asking more and more frequently what other countries are doing to help themselves and each other. We in this administration will ask the same questions, and our actions will depend to an important extent upon what the countries of the area are prepared to do for themselves and for each other."

Overall and with the exception of the war in Vietnam, the American influence and presence in Asia seems to have been beneficial. But as a new decade comes along, moods and policies must change to meet the changing problems. It seems clear that the Nixon Administration is going to expect Asian nations to find ways of doing more for themselves in a number of areas.

Temperance Lecture Dramatic

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Dec. 30, 1869.

The Rev. C. D. Pillsbury delivered his lecture, entitled "A Dream or a Visit to Pandemonium," on Wednesday last to a fair-sized audience, notwithstanding the fact that admission fee was charged. We were sensibly impressed by listening to the speaker that his production was so appropriately named. He represented himself as a visitor from the nether world; and while there Lucifer offered one-half of his kingdom to any one of his followers who would engender the greatest amount of evil among the children of men.

Being eager to secure this prize, one after another arose and addressed their acknowledged champion as he sat upon his throne, and told of heinous crimes they would willingly perpetrate in his cause. The speaker described their fiendish character in the most graphic manner imaginable

"Pollution is made by fools like me,
But, only smog can kill a tree."

Washington Insight

No Need for U.S. Haste in Pushing for Mid East Peace

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

WASHINGTON — Christmas week demonstrated as rarely before the folly of ambitious plans for settlement in the Holy Land.

There was simultaneously a conciliatory American offer to Russia and her Arab friends, a negative Soviet response, a new show of Arab hostility to Israel, a near-panic in the Jewish state about a possible American sell-out. And the plain lesson of this convergence is that the United States, instead of vainly pursuing the illusion of self-alleviation, would be better advised to sit tight and let the realities of the situation go to work.

The basic reality is that the present regimes in Israel and the Arab states are mutually exclusive. Even under American pressure, Israel is not going to yield territory without some contractual acceptance of its existence as a state. Even under pressure from Russia, Colonel Nasser's regime will not accept Israel in writing. And the other Arab states are not going to move beyond Colonel Nasser.

Nibble Away

This stalemate is not likely to be ended by military means. The Arabs may nibble away at Israel in guerrilla assaults. But the Israelis can always force the Arab states back to square one in reprisals or preemptive attack.

Political transformation is possible. But one condition is an evolution in Israel that passes power from the present regime to leaders more at ease with Arabs. Another condition is an end to the rivalry between anti-American Arab radicals, such as Colonel Nasser, and Arab conservatives, such as the kings of Morocco, Jordan, and Saudi Arabia, which causes them to compete against each other in shows of toughness to Israel.

Before those conditions are met, years and probably decades are apt to pass. In the interim there will certainly be continuing tension. There will probably be one or two new rounds of the fighting that flared in the wars of 1948, 1956, and 1967.

The chief security requirement in this situation is a loose understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union, an agreement that the local war will be kept local, that the Big Two will not be dragged over the cliff as they nearly were in 1967. And that understanding has been achieved in Big Two talks here in Washington.

Ambitious Projects

But far more ambitious projects are entertained by an important group of American policymakers. This group, led by Secretary of State William Rogers and United Nations Ambassador Charles Yost with the support of this country's Near Eastern oil interests, wants to protect the pro-American Arab conservatives against the assault of the anti-American radicals. It feels that a good way to achieve that end is for Washington to show that it is not aligned with Israel.

This feeling was intensified last fall when a radical coup unseated the King of Libya, a leading oil-producing state. And it came to particularly high pitch just before the latest summit meeting of Arab leaders began in Morocco on Dec. 21.

In line with this feeling, the United States has been steadily watering down the formulas for Near Eastern agreement put together by the Johnson administration after the 1967 war. One new set of proposals was put together for Egypt and presented to Russia on Oct. 8. Another was put together for Jordan and presented to the Soviet Union week before last. The Jordan proposals went further than any previous American statement in pushing for total Israeli withdrawal from territory occupied during the 1967 war.

When word of the new American proposal reached Jerusalem last weekend, Prime Minister Golda Meir recalled her ambassador in Washington for consultation, and then issued a statement charging the United States with "appeasement." She might have saved her breath.

Summit Broke Down

For the Russians then replied to the American offer of Oct. 8 with a note State Department officials called "unconstructive." And the Arab summit in Rabat broke down when Colonel Nasser walked out as part of a demand that the conservative states contribute more money for the Palestine guerrillas fighting Israel.

The irony of all this is that there is really no good reason why the United States should be forcing the pace for settlement in the Near East. This country can afford to sit tight there. It is the Russians and their Arab friends who are in trouble, who need to recover territory and reopen the Suez Canal. Thus the wise American course is to sit back, live with the problem, and let the other side set the pace.

In this connection, it is worth recalling an exchange that took place when President Nixon met Gen. de Gaulle in Paris last winter. The General asked the President why he planned to move out of Vietnam so slowly. The President explained that he needed to maintain American credibility in other parts of the world. The General prayed to know where. The President cited the Near East. And the General remarked: "I thought that in that area the problem of credibility was the problem of your adversary."

People Supporting New State Vocational, Technical Education

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — One of the refreshing stories of the year in Wisconsin public affairs was the steady progress made toward the effectuation of the statewide vocational and technical school system authorized by the legislature in 1965 to become fully effective in mid-1970.

History may very well describe that act as one of the most meaningful and far Better schools, with broader offerings for the benefit of young people preparing for working careers in a technological society, obviously can be more efficiently and economically provided with a broad district tax base than through the constructed tax foundations of single cities devised when Wisconsin pioneered in vocational education half a century ago.

This is an era of extreme taxpayer sensitivity. One school bond issue after another is being voted down all over Wisconsin.

But the vocational schools apparently have proved themselves to the satisfaction of the taxpayer, even while he worries about his tax burdens. Several district bonding plans have been approved without a referendum, which can be had upon the petition of only 1,000 persons. Two have been approved after referendums were held.

Landslide Support

The most remarkable exhibition of public approval of enriched vocational education opportunity came recently in the Fox Valley district base in Appleton. The vote of approval for a sizable bonding plan carried by a margin of approximately three to one. In the city of Appleton, where the populace tends to be a few shades more conservative — on the basis of its regular election behavior — the approving vote was far greater.

The significance of such a performance can scarcely be obscured. Those approving voters were not only endorsing — to the extent that they formerly lived outside the vocational school district — an additional property tax levy of two mills on equalized levies to amortize the bond issue which under the new law is outside the regular taxing limits of the districts.

It will require perhaps half a dozen year or more to provide the buildings and staff and equipment to make the 18 district school systems fully operative according to the design of the architects of the reorganization law. But perhaps because this system does not indulge in as much of the puffery as some other elements of Wisconsin public education, it is not always remembered that it not always remembered that it is always a sizable establishment. For example, there are 33,000 full time students studying for credit — or the equivalent of the enrollment of three typical state universities — not to mention more than 200,000 part-time and night students.

People Sick and Tired Being Told What To Do

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

As everyone knows, if you're looking at a large picture, you have to step back a few paces to see what is actually going on. If you're too close to it, the detail overwhelms you, and the total pattern of the picture cannot be grasped.

I suggest that we step back a few paces from the current scene of unrest, of dissent and defiance, and confrontation and protest. When we do — when we acquire a little emotional distance as well as physical distance—I think we will find a common thread running through the whole picture.

Even though the specific issues seem to be varied — the race question, or the war question, or the college question, or the civil rights question — the overall pattern is the same in all of them: a refusal to be manipulated by unresponsive authority.

Millions of people are sick and tired of being told what to do and not being told the reasons why; of being ordered to behave and react in a certain way, without given options; of being used for ulterior purposes that are not their own, and over which they have had no control. They are demanding a little more of the "individualism" we preach so ardently, but rarely put into practice.

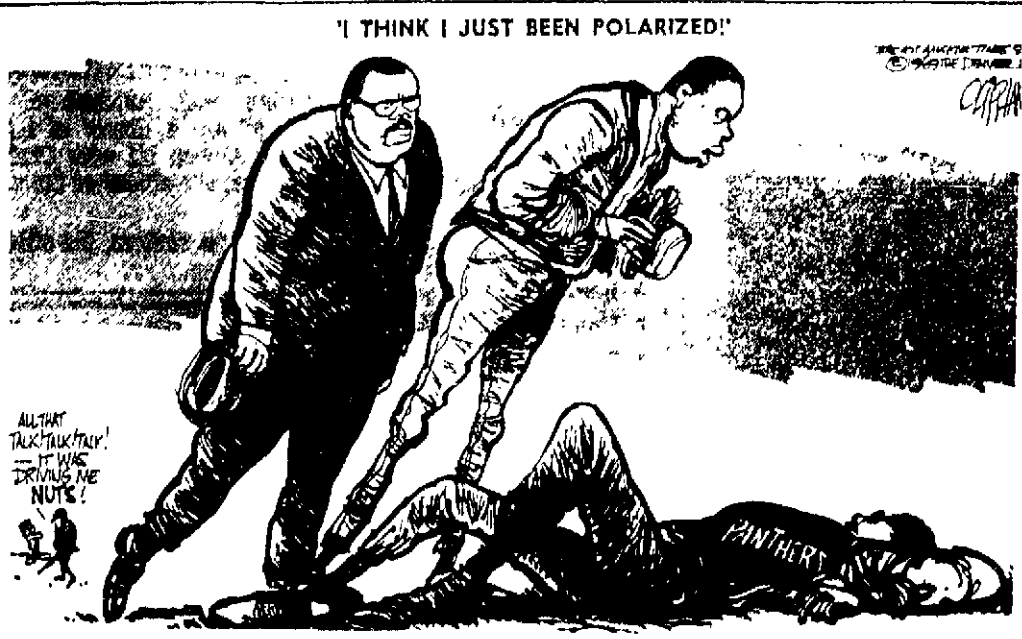

This, on the whole, and in the long run, is a good thing. It is an intensely American thing. It is a basically democratic thing. It is an attitude many of us seem to have forgotten in this age of conformity, of uniformity, of blind compliance with rules and regulations made up for the sake of people who enforce them more than for the sake of the people who have to live by them.

There are bound to be excesses and extravagances in such a movement. Malcontents will take advantage of the unrest, as they have in some colleges, where the drive to get a better education has been subverted into a blindly insane attack on intellectual and academic values. The price we pay for our repression in the past is wild license masquerading as "freedom." One excess always breeds the opposite excess.

But, when the frenzy dies away and the dust settles, I am persuaded we shall find our nation a better place for it. Authority will become more responsive to public needs and individual concerns. The manipulators will be forced to put people ahead of power and position and profit. Politics will be shaped in the neighborhoods more than in City Halls. "Power to the people," after all, is a slogan of our Founding Fathers, which inspired this nation's independence.

We are too close to the picture right now to see it clearly. But if we handle the dissent intelligently, it will turn out well in the end.

Middle East Policy Shift Disturbs U. S. Jewish Community

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — At a critical point in his conference last week with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban asked whether the U.S. had prepared a plan for peace between Israel and Jordan.
Rogers did not reply. A moment of embarrassed silence followed, broken finally by Under Secretary of State Elliot Richardson. No, said Richardson, no final proposal had been formulated.
In fact, however, at almost now gone Jews deeply concerned that very moment, the U.S. was ed over the new "balanced" submitting its proposal to the policy unveiled by Secretary Big Four to settle the intractable Rogers are mobilizing along able questions between Israel special and somewhat surprise and Jordan arising out of 15-mg lines before the switch in Nixon's Middle East policy, but it emphasized the shrewdness of Israeli leaders in making the most of their Republican allies. More important, the effort in California is continuing with plans to organize a top-level committee of industrialists (mostly Jewish) to lobby the White House.

Heading the committee is Tait Schreiber of Los Angeles, head of Music Corp. of Amer- ica, key Republican money- raiser and backstage operator and a close Reagan ally. Jewish Republican leaders hope Schreiber's committee will have enough political clout to offset pro-Arab influence exerted at the White House by David Rockefeller, Robert Anderson, and John J. McCloy. In con- fidential White House chats the past weeks, these three titans of U.S. commercial and oil inter- ests in the Arab states have pressed hard on Nixon to warm relations with the Arabs.
Lose Oil Income
Their message: the U.S. stands to lose its entire Middle Eastern oil income to growing Soviet influence unless it mod- erates its strong, historic pro- Israeli posture.
To counter this, there have been several unannounced meet- ings between Jewish groups and White House security aide Hen- ry Kissinger Jr. One such delegation was headed by two powerful Jewish Republicans — Ben Jacob K. Javits of New York and Max Fisher, a Detroit millionaire and a special White House consultant. On last Tues- day, another meeting was held in Rogers's State Department office with leaders of the Con- ference of Jewish Organizations. Their message: don't let Israel down

1040 U.S. Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.
Q — When will I get the forms I need to file my 1969 income tax return?
A — Taxpayers will receive their forms by mail around the 1st of the year. Extra copies of the forms and instructions will be available at most local banks and post offices and all IRS offices in January for those needing them.
Note that in the forms pack- age you will receive in the mail are several additional forms besides the basic one-page Form 1040. These are provided for your convenience in case you need them.
We estimate that 31 million taxpayers will only need the one- forms from an unwillingness to ease Israel's critical economic problem until Israel announces a readiness to evacuate most of the occupied Arab lands.
All this is bad enough for pro- Israeli American Jews. Far worse is the possibility that the mini-war between them and the Nixon administration could es- calate into full-scale political war, threatening a sharp public reaction in favor of the Arabs.
That, and the dreaded prospect of anti-Semitism, is worrying some of the most thoughtful Jewish political leaders today.

Four Bow at Glittering Coronet Ball

Saturday evening at Butte des Morts Golf Club four young Appleton women bowed at the 10th Coronet Ball. Walking with their fathers down a poinsettia lined aisle to a stage decked with more of the lovely Christmas flowers and holiday greens, each girl, gowned in traditional white, carried a nosegay that held a charm, a memento of the occasion.

As each girl was introduced by her father to Club President Richard D. Kewley, he placed a glittering coronet on her head. After the introductions were completed the girls danced the traditional first dance with their fathers and were claimed for the second by their escorts.

Presented were Miss Alison Ann Brahe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Neil Benton Brahe, 1136 E. Moorpark Ave.; Miss Perrie Ducklow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ducklow, 510 E. North St.; Miss Katherine Jane Kewley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kewley, 1121 Ridge Lane, and Miss Marcia Claire Voissem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Voissem, 1920 W. Charles St.

The evening began for the young women, all college freshmen, with a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kewley. Then the girls, their escorts and friends dined at the club. Introductions took place at 9 p.m. and the dance at 10 p.m.

Miss Katherine Kewley adjusts her father's tie before the introductions Saturday evening. Mr. Kewley, who is club president, presented the young women to members of the club during the ceremony.

Six Worst in Outagamie

Polluted Streams Identified

Few — if any — streams in the Wolf River basin are free of at least some form of pollution, but several streams in Outagamie County have proven to be in the worst condition, according to an 18-month water monitoring program.

The study — termed the most extensive water quality testing program conducted in this region — was made with federal funds by the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission.

It was planned mainly as the beginning of a data library. The final report, including maps, graphs and explanations, will be ready in late January.

Streams Monitored

While there is no past data for comparison, the study indicated that of 36 streams monitored monthly in a nine-county area, the six showing the most severe pollution are in Outagamie. The lower Fox River in its course through the Fox Cities to Green Bay was not monitored.

Coming up at the bottom of the list was Black Creek, monitored near Seymour and at the Village of Black Creek. The streams were tested for 11 conditions, including coliform (bacteria from human and animal waste) count.

The next worst streams were Duck Creek, tested near Freedom; the Rat River, tested near Zittau in Winnebago County but reflecting the condition of the stream in Outagamie; Bear Creek, near the Village of Bear Creek; another stream called Bear Creek, at Stephenville; and the Shioc River, near Shiocton, Navarino and Nichols.

Lower Wolf Best

The Outagamie stream which showed up best was 17th — the lower Wolf River, with tests made at Hortonville, Shiocton and Leeman.

Although it fared well in Outagamie, the stream showed a much higher quality in tests made in the northern counties, Northeastern chief hydrologist Jerome Paul said. This indicates "the adverse influence of its tributaries."

Waupaca and Winnebago counties also have streams that are relatively polluted. The Rat River (same as Outagamie) near Zittau was 34th while the Rush River near Omro was 31st on a list of 36.

In Waupaca, the north branch of the Pigeon River at Marion and the Pigeon at Clintonville also were recorded as having a relatively high amount of pollution for this region.

Crystal River Listed

The only stream in the lower half of the nine-county area was the west branch of the White River near Wauloma and the Crystal River near Waupaca.

The least polluted streams, the study indicated, were the west branch of the Wolf, a tributary of the Wolf near Keshena in Menominee County; the Red River in Shawano County; the Rat River in Forest County; and the upper Wolf in several northern counties.

Based on the state standards for water quality, 15 of the 36 streams should not be used for swimming and nine should not be used as drinking water, even if treated. The latter include Duck Creek, Black Creek, north branch of the Pigeon, Blake Creek north of Manawa, Nace Creek near Iola and the Waupaca River.

Based on Bacteria Counts

Paul based this evaluation on the bacteria counts, which generally reflect sewage being dumped into streams. He noted tests indicated that these streams' bacteria counts were higher near communities.

"You can see the reason (in the study results) why some streams are worse than others," he said. "It can be related directly to communities. They are responsible for the degraded quality," he added.

Paul said he and his chief study assistant, Boyd Kinzley, Northeastern's director of natural resources, found that many streams were more polluted than they had expected. He noted many monitoring stations revealed pollution even where

Careers At Home Will Be Discussed

'Look Homeward' Is Program Theme for College Students

Over 100 college students — many who, it is hoped will return someday to work in Fox Cities paper industries — are expected to attend the annual "Look Homeward" career opportunities program being conducted tonight by the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service.

The annual program for vacationing college students will begin at 7 p.m. today at the Institute of Paper Chemistry's Krannert Auditorium. It is designed to acquaint home-town students with the job possibilities in the Fox Cities paper field.

"It has been very effective over the years," commented Thomas E. Branagan, paper information service manager. He noted that although there was no preregistration this year, there should be 100 to 200 students attending. One year, about 300 were attracted to the event, he said.

Career Film

The keynote speaker this year will be Robert J. Turck, president of Riverside Paper Corp. Also planned are a movie on career opportunities in paper-making and related industries and a social hour when students can talk with representatives of the 10 firms sponsoring the event with the paper information service.

The industries are Allis-Chalmers' paper machinery division in Appleton; Appleton Coated Paper Co.; Appleton Mills; Appleton Wire Works; Bergstrom Paper Co., Neenah; Kimberly-Clark Corp., Menasha Corp.; Riverside Paper Corp., Appleton; Thilmany Pulp & Paper Co., Kaukauna, and Wisconsin Tissue Mills, Menasha.

Kaukauna Vigil Organizers Plan to Ignore Restrictions

ACLU Chapters Back New Year's Eve Assembly

KAUKAUNA — Backed by Valley and Northeastern Wisconsin chapters of the American Civil Liberties Union, organizers of a New Year's Eve peace vigil have announced that they will ignore restrictions set by Police Chief William Nagel. But they also invited persons who are willing to abide by the restrictions to take part with them.

Dan Konen, a member of the steering committee organizing the vigil, issued a statement in the name of the committee saying terms attached to a permit required by the chief are "in effect a denial of the original request."

He continued, "We regret the police refusal to issue the permit we requested. The steering committee has voted to proceed with our original plans."

"We have chosen this road on the advice of legal counsel because our constitutionally guaranteed freedoms of assembly and expression are at stake."

$66 Permit

The group already has paid $60 for a permit required by the chief, but Konen said that the committee feels that the permit "contains so many restrictions that it has been made difficult for use to exercise our constitutional freedoms."

The group objects specifically to the chief's requirement that participants in the vigil first register their names and addresses with the police.

"We do not feel that it is legal to demand registration prior to using a public sidewalk. The effort of the registration is to limit the number of participants by intimidation," the statement said.

Besides requiring registration and payment of the fee, the permit limits sidewalk areas where participants may stand for the vigil. The permit also requires the activities to end at 10 p.m.

Continue to Midnight

Konen said today the group will continue the vigil until midnight as originally planned. In addition, he said, the group will use the portion of sidewalk where participants will be most easily seen by passersby, another purpose of the vigil which Konen said would be thwarted by the terms of the permit.

At the same time that Konen issued his statement, the group won support from the Fox Cities chapters of the American Civil Liberties Union. The statement carries the names of John A. Holland, Fox Cities chapter president, peacefully and without blocking the use of the walk. "We believe coming age of peace," Konen said.

The statement said the permit at all violates constitutional protected freedoms, "the ACLU said."

The demonstrators plan to stand in single file along the edge of the sidewalk, facing the street silently while holding placards. About 9:30 p.m., the participants plan to light candles "symbolizing the use of the walk."

The site is along Main Avenue, next to the municipal parking lot, across the street from the police station.

Panel Agrees on Move

Resolution Planned for Joint Safety Building

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A joint resolution calling for creation of a building committee set now so planning could be started immediately, will be presented to the Appleton City Council Jan. 7 and the Outagamie County Board Jan. 13 "to get joint safety building planning off the ground."

The building committee would consist of Mayor George Buckley, County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, two aldermen, two other supervisors and a seventh person to be chosen by the other six.

The decision to present a resolution was reached at a meeting this morning between Esler, Buckley, City Atty. David Geenen, County Corp. Counsel A. W. Ponath and County Executive Secretary Alvin Wochler.

Details First

While the resolution would propose a committee as outlined by state statute 66.508, adoption of an ordinance under the statute was not recommended until such things as cost and space sharing were settled.

The arrangement apparently partly ends the debate within the county board about which state statute should be used in planning for a joint building.

Presently, both the city council and county board are operating under 66.30, a broad cooperation agreement statute. However, some supervisors contend the more specific safety building statute 66.508 is mandatory.

Preferred, Not Mandatory

An attorney general's office opinion holds that it does not feel 66.508 is mandatory but that it is preferred over 66.30. Under 66.508, both legislative bodies must pass an ordinance which creates a seven-man building commission with broad powers. Most of the commission's powers would be spelled out in the ordinance.

After initial debate appeared to be leading nowhere, Esler told his city counterpart, "Itive district as drawn by Gov. Warren P. Knowles. Both counties are cut off from adjacent counties, and officials from both have expressed their dis-

Fond du Lac Leads New Group Opposing Present Boundaries

FOND DU LAC — A second splinter group of counties may be forming to challenge the state administrative district plan with yet another alternative plan involving the Fox Valley.

Fond du Lac County is emerging as the nucleus of a group that might include counties to its east, south and west. A number of informal meetings have been held by these counties.

Brown County already has proposed a Bay-Lakes district which would align Brown County with Marinette and Oconto counties to the north and counties lying along Lake Michigan from Door to Sheboygan.

Both Fond du Lac and Brown counties lie on the extreme ends of the East Central administrative district as drawn by Gov. Warren P. Knowles. Both counties are cut off from adjacent counties, and officials from both have expressed their dis-

Supervisors Get Election Papers

Three incumbent Outagamie County supervisors have obtained nomination papers to run for re-election.

They are Mrs. Barbara Kozelzke, 323 E. Summer St., Second District (Appleton), and Herbert Helble, 838 E. North St., Thirteenth District (Appleton).

Candidates may start circulating nomination papers Friday. All 47 supervisory posts are up for election.

Fresh snow gives rocks in the Fox River a marshmallow topping

Strict Enforcement Promised

Snowmobile Violations Snowball in Appleton

Appleton police said today that they are experiencing considerable trouble with the operation of snowmobiles in the city.

The problem, according to police, is two-fold. Snowmobilers are illegally operating on public property, including streets and parks, and in many instances are traveling across and trespassing on private property.

The operation of snowmobiles in Appleton is regulated by both city ordinance and state statutes.

Under city ordinance, snowmobile operation is prohibited in all city parks and on Reid Municipal Golf Course.

The following provisions are among state statutes regulating snowmobile operations:

—A snowmobile may not be operated on a public highway, except as specifically permitted by law.

—It is permissible to drive a snowmobile across a two or three-lane highway, but only after stopping and yielding to all vehicles.

—While operating on the highway is prohibited, a snowmobile may be operated outside the ditch line on a two- or three-lane highway.

—Although there is no age limitation for snowmobile operators, no person under 12 may drive one across any highway and no one under 16 may drive one across any state trunk highway or connecting street.

Any snowmobile driven across or along a right-of-way during hours of darkness must display a lighted headlamp and tail lamp.

Police explained that for all practical purposes, snowmobile operation throughout most of the city is prohibited under either city or state laws.

Authorities promise strict enforcement of the snowmobile laws. Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin L. Spice issued a similar warning earlier this month.

Many of the counties face similar problems, he said, because they have not yet been overcome by urban problems, but are in a stage of development that will allow them to prevent some of these problems. He pointed out that his county and others nearby have both been urbanized as rapidly as those in the Fox Cities area.

'Independent' Tendency

He said the counties involved tended to be "independent." Unlike Marinette and Oconto, rural counties which hope to be attached to metropolitan Green Bay, the southern counties align themselves with no particular metropolitan area, he said.

Many of the counties already have their own planning departments and have set out to plan their own futures, he said.

Flanders said the first step in putting together an alternative district will be to gather information which demonstrates a commonality of interests. Then members of the appropriate county boards will be asked to meet and express their interests.

Final Approach

The final approach will be to the county boards.

Flanders said he foresees as many as three administrative districts emerging from the area now comprised by the governor's East Central District, plus some immediately adjacent counties. He pointed to the large population and great growth potential in the East Central District as opposed to some of the governor's other districts.

If there proves to be no intense interest among the counties invited to join the coalition, then Fond du Lac County "will have to try a different tack," Flanders said.

Program Underway To Install 36,000 Signs by Next Year

MADISON Reference markers currently being installed by the state division of highways will aid policemen in determining the exact location of traffic mishaps.

The markers along state roads give the highway number, its cardinal direction and its reference point number. They will be placed at county lines, bridges, intersections, township lines and section lines, and accidents will be located by giving the reference point number, plus or minus the number of feet from the marker.

When the program is completed in December, 1970, 36,000 markers will have been installed in the state, Leonard E. Rodeghier, Wisconsin Rapids, district four traffic supervisor, says installation along U.S. 10 is nearly complete.

Marker numbers and distances are being programmed into a computer in Madison so that it will be possible to locate the precise distance, for example, from a marker in downtown Stevens Point to one in downtown Wisconsin Rapids, according to Rodeghier.

The markers will be permanently located, not changing when highways are relocated or reconstructed. Locations were established after an aerial photo mapping survey.

High Cliff Is Busy With Winter Sports

Enthusiasts Throng Park to Enjoy Seasonal Activities

SHERWOOD — Activities at High Cliff State Park are not limited to the warm days of summer.

Recent snowfalls have added to the winter activities and the visits of nature lovers who enjoy the scenic area cloaked in a mantle of white.

Snowmobiling at the upper level is popular with many area enthusiasts who find abundant acreage to ride; while those given to hiking, walk the nature trails and take a panoramic view of Lake Winnebago.

The lightly clad visitors frequenting the campgrounds, swimming beach and picnic areas a few months ago now have been replaced with folks in fur-lined boots, parkas, insulated underwear and winter loggery.

Youngsters come to the park with sleighs and toboggans to ride the slopes and ice fishermen go onto Lake Winnebago from the lower level.

Winter or summer, visitors come to High Cliff to enjoy the season's outdoor attractions.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A picture of a young wife reading the news of her husband's death in Vietnam, and a picture of a welfare demonstrator tying a balloon on a National Guardsman's bayonet shared honors as Wisconsin's best news photos of 1969.

Among photos receiving votes was a picture of a youngster grimacing as he received a skin test, taken by Edward J. Deschler Jr. of The Post-Crescent.

The winners were determined in a poll among Wisconsin members of The Associated Press.

Ralph Eichholz, a staff photographer of the Waukesha Freeman, took the poignant picture of the grieving war widow, clutching her husband's military cap as she read the tragic message telling of his death.

The woman is Mrs. Cherece Poff, whose husband was Pfc. John R. Poff.

Ned Vespa, a Journal Co. staff photographer, took the Milwaukee Sentinel picture on the Capitol grounds at Madison, showing a demonstrator attaching a balloon to a guardsman's bayoneted rifle as the welfare protest leader, Father James Groppi, watched.

The two pictures each received 40 points in a poll on the basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second and areas a few months ago now have been replaced with folks in fur-lined boots, parkas, insulated underwear and winter loggery.

University doors may be open for low-income students in Wisconsin during 1970 under a work-study program developed by the United States Forest Service.

The forest service has signed a cooperative agreement with the Wisconsin State University Board of Regents to provide summer work and part-time jobs for students.

Under the plan, the forest service pays 20 per cent of the tab and financial grants cover students' of going back to school," she adds.

Under the trial plan, students are paid from $1.90 to $2.20 per hour while working for the forest service. Awards, based on need, are "tailored to the individual student," according to Miss Johnson.

A recent study on the Milwaukee campus showed 52.1 per cent of the students are working part-time. Mrs. Nancy Eichsteadt, director of student financial aids, notes.

Forest Service to Implement Work-Study College Plan

Under the new program, forestry and engineering students are being sought to work in national forests in Wisconsin, according to Gorton.

The Nicolet National Forest with headquarters at Rhinelander totals 942,000 acres, while the Chequamegon National Forest with headquarters at Park Falls, has 1,032,000 acres.

There are 275 full-time forest service employees in the two forests and 269 employees at the regional headquarters in Milwaukee. The office administers national forests from Maine to Maryland to Missouri to Minnesota.

Gorton said students joining the program during the summer of 1970 probably would be working in a ranger district. Districts cover about 150,000 acres of national forest.

Forestry students probably will work with district rangers and foresters to mark timber stands for improvement, select trees for cutting, work with recreational areas and timber management.

Engineering students probably would be working on the staff of forest engineers, Gorton said, explaining that they may assist in laying out forest roads, buildings, recreational facilities, work on transportation systems, designing sewer and water systems and drafting.

Heart Ailment Cited in Death Of Woman

A heart ailment was given as the tentative cause of death Sunday morning of a 21-year-old Appleton woman.

Linda C. Laszewski, 1748 N. Harriman St., was dead on arrival at Appleton Memorial Hospital, where she was taken by the fire department rescue squad about 9 a.m.

Members of her family found her unconscious on her bedroom floor.

Police were told that Miss Laszewski had worked until 10 p.m. Saturday and apparently was not ill when she went to bed. She had undergone a physical examination about two months ago.

A final ruling on the cause of death cannot be made until laboratory tests have been completed, according to C. J. Schink, Outagamie County deputy coroner.

However, a postmortem examination revealed that Miss Laszewski suffered from a heart defect, Schink said.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Wichmann Funeral Home.

3,000 District Employers VTE-12 to Survey Manpower

A questionnaire to determine trends in manpower needs will be mailed to all employers in the Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12) in the coming week.

The survey is the initial phase of a program needed for long-range curriculum planning for the district and was approved at the December meeting of the VTE-12 board.

The second phase will come when all of the information gathered will be made available to the guidance and vocational counselors in district high schools for distribution to students who are making career choices.

According to Dominic Bordini, head of research and planning for VTE-12, who made the presentation, such an occupational study proposal has been conducted in several other districts of the state.

Technological Changes

"Due to the constant technological changes in business, trial, agricultural and public

employers will be polled through the project.

Any firm with more than 200 employees of which there are 65 in the district will be contacted personally by the field services division of VTE-12.

The survey, conducted in cooperation with the state employment service, will cover any firm that has two or more employees, Bordini said.

The sole area which will be excluded by this survey will be medical occupations. A complete survey in this field was completed a year ago by VTE-12 officials. The information has been documented and will be used to implement new programs in the upcoming curriculum, especially when the new information — later in the year, hoping that federal funding may be available for the project under the Title program of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

According to Bordini, the 1967 when the district was formed. We had to in order to start coming in by Jan. 25.

Area Needs

"We have conducted occupational surveys before in certain employment areas, beginning in 1967 when the district was formed. We had to in order to start coming in by Jan. 25.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, Dec. 29, the 363rd day of 1969. There are two days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1934, Japan renounced the Washington Treaty limiting the naval armaments of the United States, Britain and Japan.
On this date:
In 1170 Archbishop Thomas Becket was murdered at the altar in the Cathedral at Canterbury, England.
In 1808, the 17th U.S. president, Andrew Johnson, was born in Raleigh, N.C.
In 1845, Texas became the 28th state.
In 1848, there was excitement at the White House as the first gas lights were installed.
In 1940, a massive German air raid against London left many sections of the city in flames.
In 1962, President John F. Kennedy went to Miami, Fla., to greet Cuban prisoners just released by the Castro government in exchange for American ransom.
Ten years ago, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev admitted that there had been serious failures and mismanagement in Russian agriculture.
Five years ago, Rebels in the Congo were reported to have killed 25 to 30 white hostages.
One year ago, the Soviet Union and the United States condemned Israel for a retaliatory raid against the Beirut, Lebanon, airport.

Below State Average

$314 Per Person Needed To Maintain Outagamie

Per capita costs of keeping the wheels of government turning in Outagamie County is above the national figure but falls considerably below the state per capita cost. The information for each county is listed in a new study released by the Department of Commerce. The report is the first since 1962 and is based on the latest census of governments, made every five years. The cost of services in Outagamie amounts to $34 a year for every man, woman and child.

The comparable cost in other parts of the country is $299 and in Wisconsin, $337.

Figures for surrounding counties are Calumet, $223; Waupaca, $38; and Winnebago, $288.

County Functions

The figure indicates how much is spent in each area per resident for schools, roads, police and fire protection, health, welfare, housing, sanitation, general administration and other county functions.

Also shown in the report is the general per capita revenue as compared to expenditures.

For Outagamie, the revenue is $269, with $53 coming from local taxes fees and charges with the rest coming from state and federal payments.

Calumet had average revenue of $209 with $9 of that coming from local sources. Waupaca, $297 revenue, with $126 coming from local taxes. Winnebago, $265 revenue, with $145 supplied by local taxes.

Bigger Debts

Many governments have found it necessary to go into bigger debt to raise money for necessary capital improvements.

The general debt in each county is Outagamie, $336 per capita, Calumet, $45; Waupaca, $176; and Winnebago, $277.

Nationally the per capita debt averages $410 and in the state, $317.

The survey indicates that nationally, the outlay for local level operations came to $59.5 billion in 1969, as against $39.8 billion in 1962.

Rising Costs

The rising cost of government has been a problem in almost every locality, with public payrolls, the price of materials, the demand for services and the cost of borrowing all moving upward.

In an effort to meet these rising expenses, most communities have had to turn to bigger taxes, special fees and a variety of miscellaneous charges and tolls, the report states.

Incorporation Loan Returned At Sherwood

SHERWOOD — Residents who contributed $10 to finance a preliminary engineering survey for incorporation of the village received their money back with the first tax bills mailed Friday by treasurer, Mrs. Milan Deprez.

Village officials thanked those who made the loan of over $900 so that a citizen committee could go ahead with incorporation plans. The village, originally part of the Town of Harrison, was incorporated in June, 1968.

Mrs. Deprez will collect taxes on Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. during January and February, and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the final day, Feb. 28. Payment may be made by mail. Those paying taxes on the installment plan must pay one-half real estate and all personal property tax by Jan. 31. The balance of real estate taxes must be paid by July 31 to the Calumet County treasurer.

Rubbish Collection Changed for Holiday

KAUKAUNA — Due to the holiday Thursday, rubbish and garbage pickup normally made on Thursday will be postponed to Friday. Residents are requested to have debris at the curb by 7 a.m. to insure pickup according to Donald Schaefer, street department foreman.

Many Rated Teams Involved in Cage Schedule Tonight

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Today should be anything but Blue Monday for the nation's college basketball set.

No less than 17 of the Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press poll, including the first six, will be in action from coast to coast after a weekend in which 11 ranked teams hit the hardwood and nine came through unscathed.

Top-rated Kentucky, 7-0 after squeaking by 11th-ranked Notre Dame 102-100 Saturday night, entertains Miami of Ohio. The Wildcats shaded the Irish on Dan Issel's layup with 40 seconds—Issel scored 35 points and Mike Pratt 42—and were saved from overtime when ND's Austin Carr missed a jump shot at the buzzer.

Unbeaten runner-up UCLA made it six in a row by walloping Georgia Tech 121-90 behind Henry Bibby's 25 points and Sid Wicks' 22. The UCLANS face Princeton, an 82-76 winner over Indiana, in the finals of their own Bruin Classic.

Idle Saturday
The 3-4 teams—South Carolina, North Carolina and Ohio U.—were idle Saturday, but start tournament play today. The Gamecocks face New Mexico in the Sugar Bowl Classic at New Orleans, the Tar Heels go against Harvard in the Carolina Classic at Greensboro, N.C., and the Bobcats meet Texas in the Hurricane Classic at Miami, Fla.

Sixth-ranked Tennessee, which trounced St. Francis, Pa. 82-59, opposes Niagara in the semifinals of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City; Davidson, No. 9, plays Holy Cross in the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational and Washington, No. 10, faces Oregon State in the semis of the Far West Classic at

Sugar Bowl
Elsewhere, Notre Dame tacked West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl event; Southern Cal meets Temple in the Far West losers bracket with 15th-ranked Illinois in playing Michigan State in the other half. The previously unbeaten Illini lost to Washington State 59-58.

Louisville, No. 14, is at home, against Southern Methodist and 16th-rated Kansas, a 68-64 overtime loser to Oklahoma, faces Oklahoma State in the Big Eight losers round.

In the only game matching members of the Top Twenty, No. 17 Penn tangles with No. 18 Purdue in the semifinals of the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York while the other semi has 19th-ranked St. Bonaventure against St. Joseph's, Pa.

Villanova, No. 20, is paired with unbeaten Columbia in the semis of the Quaker City Tournament in Philadelphia.

Mount Stars
In New York Saturday, Penn stopped Boston College 86-65, Purdue downed Manhattan 89-79 as Rick Mount returned to action with 30 points. St. Bonaventure's 6-foot-11 Bob Lanier poured in 33 in a 107-60 rout of NYU and St. Joseph's beat Cincinnati 109-92.

At Philadelphia, it was Villanova 89, Connecticut 71; Columbia 101, Wake Forest 78; La Salle 76, Georgia 66 and Cornell 68, Brigham Young 62.

Seventh-ranked New Mexico State, 10-1, captured its own Roadrunner Invitational 93-78 over Creighton and Jacksonville, rated 13th, won the Evansville Invitational by defeating the host team 100-74.

In other weekend action, Minnesota took the Motor City Classic with a 65-64 squeaker over Detroit; Canisius beat St. Peter's, N.J. 91-84 for the Queen City crown; North Carolina State won the Lafayette Classic from Northwestern 98-75 and Marquette crushed Wisconsin 64-43 to gain the championship of the Milwaukee Classic.

The nation's two leading scorers fell well below their averages Saturday. Pete Maravich made only seven of 27 shots and finished with 26 points as Loui-

Nine Hours of Televised Football

7 of Top 10 in Bowl Games Thursday

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The eyes of a football-watch-ing nation will be on Texas Thursday, and one of the most eager sets should be that of President Nixon, the White House handicapper who publicly proclaimed the Longhorns the No. 1 college team.

Texas, unbeaten in 10 games, meets No. 9 Notre Dame, in the Cotton Bowl. No. 2 Penn State, also 10-0 faces No. 6 Missouri in the Orange Bowl a few hours later in an effort to prove the President knows more about politics than sports.

Nixon presented the Texas team with a championship plaque following its 15-14 nail-biter against Arkansas three weeks ago, and Penn State fans were a bit miffed.

Bowl Marathon
The Associated Press pollsters ultimately sided with the President. A final poll will be taken after Thursday's games.

siana State beat Submarine Forces, Pacific 88-80. Fortunately, the game does not count in the NCAA records. Calvin Murphy sat out 19 minutes in foul trouble but managed 27 as the Purple Eagles knocked off Rice 101-94 in overtime.

which highlight the traditional bowl marathon in football's longest week.

The New Year's Day bowl spectacle features seven of the Top Ten teams. In nine hours of nationally televised games.

The Cotton Bowl (CBS 1 p.m. CST) marks Notre Dame's first, USC, Michigan and Ohio post season appearance in 45 years. The Irish challenge the Penn State, unbeaten in 29 Southwest Conference champs,

Jerry Birling Slams 644 in Mixed League

Jerry Birling slammed a 259 game and 644 series to set the pace in the Twin City Mixed League at the Twin City Bowl Sunday night.

Leading the KRA Bird Couples League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly, was Nancy Stuyvenberg with a 203 game and 560 series.

Cliff Hoppe blasted a 239 game and Cloyd Theede had a 593 series to share honors in the Commercial League at Sabre Lanes last Friday. Theede had a 230 game with his high series.

with an 8-1-1 record and a 20-9-1, meet in a night contest at the front lines.

Should Notre Dame upset ABC's Texas and Penn State stumble against the strong Big Eight representative, the No. 1 spot will be wide open, with Missouri, USC, Michigan and Ohio

Southwest Conference champs, straight games, and Missouri.

Fourth Straight

The oldest bowl of all—the Rose Bowl—features No. 5 Southern Cal as host for the fourth straight year (4:30 p.m. NBC). The Trojans, 8-1-1, face Michigan, 8-2, the only team to beat Ohio State this year.

In other games, the Peach Bowl in Atlanta Tuesday night matches South Carolina, 7-3, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, and No. 19 West Virginia, 9-1. The Mountaineers' only loss was to Penn State.

Twelfth-ranked Auburn meets No. 18 Houston in the Bluebonnet Bowl at the Astrodome New Year's Eve, and a crowd of more than 50,000 is expected. The teams match 8-2 records and both have averaged better than 35 points a game.

The American Bowl, featuring North-South seniors, wraps up the week next Saturday in Tampa, Fla.

Elaine Sommer fired a 202 game to lead the action in the Five by Eight League at the Twin City Bowl recently.

Art Brower's 230 game was high in the Wildlife League at the Sabre Lanes Sunday night.

Huff Family to Have Boys In Cotton, Rose Bowl Games

SOUTH BEND, Ind., (AP) — Rose Bowl team, who now is a Marine in Vietnam.

In all, Peter Huff has five football-bred sons, also including Jim, a reserve player at Wisconsin several years ago who already has completed a Marine stint in Vietnam, and Tom, 200-pound fullback at St. Francis de Sales High School in Toledo.

Tom is a junior and still growing. "He might become too big to play as a back," conceded Peter. "But he plays both ways."

Southern California's Trojans can take it from Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue that the 225-pound Marty Huff is a tougher all, Marty (a junior) won't defender.

After Michigan's 31-20 defeat because of the Big Ten's no-repeat rule.

Notre Dame lifted a 45-year Wolverine linebackers, who ban against bowl games this year to face No. 1 Texas in the Cotton Bowl and it's a fair game.

Notre Dame's Andy blossomed ble the Irish could go to another bowl game before Andy graduates.

Ellis, Frazier Expected to Sign Contract

Would Decide Split Heavyweight Title Feb. 16

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier were expected to officially agree today to a Feb. 16 match that will finally straighten out boxing's muddled heavyweight championship picture.

Madison Square Garden scheduled a noon press conference to announce the long-awaited match between Ellis, recognized as heavyweight champ by the World Boxing Association, and Frazier, who is accepted as the division ruler by seven states including New York.

The split crown has existed ever since Cassius Clay was stripped of his title for refusing military service. The WBA organized an elimination tournament that was eventually won by Ellis, a former Clay sparring partner. Frazier, meanwhile, gained recognition from several maverick state boxing commissions when he knocked out Buster Mathis in the Garden in what was billed as a title fight on March 4, 1968.

Settle Squabble

Ever since, both men have claimed the coveted heavyweight crown and their Feb. 16 match will finally settle the squabble.

The Garden has been trying for some time to match the two champs but with little success. When one was ready, the other was not and vice versa.

As recently as two weeks ago, it seemed hopes for the bout were finished for good with Frazier apparently ready to battle Clay, who now uses the name Muhammad Ali. But the champ's draft problems prevented the fight from finding a home and plans dissolved. Meanwhile, Ellis was scheduled to fight Gregorio Peralta of Argentina at Buenos Aires 10 days ago. Then, that fight fell through because of lack of interest as well as financial problems.

That left both Ellis and Frazier hungry for a fight and the Garden made its move. Harry Markson, the Garden's boxing director, lured the two fighters with a reported guarantee of $150,000 each against 30 per cent of the gate plus closed circuit television revenue.

Since beating Mathis, Frazier has successfully defended his share of the title with victories over Oscar Bonavena, Jerry Quarry, Manuel Ramos and Dave Zygiewicz. The most recent was his TKO over Quarry at the Garden last June 23.

Ellis won the WBA version of the crown by beating Quarry on a split decision in the final bout of the elimination tournament April 27, 1968. He defended it, beating ex-champ Floyd Patterson on Sept. 14, 1968 but then came postponed bouts against Britain's Henry Cooper and Peralta leaving him idle for 15 months.

It's never happened before but Bobby Orr seems completely serious about becoming the first defenseman to win a National Hockey League scoring championship.

Orr picked up a goal and three more assists Sunday night, leading Boston to a 5-4 victory over travel-weary Philadelphia and increasing his point total for the season to 51. He is eight points in front of St. Louis' Phil

Goyette, runner-up in the scoring race.

In other NHL action Sunday, Los Angeles tied New York 3-3 and Detroit dropped Oakland 5-3.

The Flyers, delayed by weather, spent 18 hours on a bus ride from Montreal and arrived at Philadelphia just 1 1/2 hours before game time. Still, they put up a good fight against Orr and the Bruins.

Five different players—Orr, Ken Hodge, Ed Westfall, John McKenzie and Derek Sanderson—scored for Boston while Simon Nolet had two and Guy Gendron and Andre Lacroix one each for Philadelphia.

Orr's three assists gave him 43 for the season—just seven short of the record for defensemen set last year by Chicago's Pat Stapleton. The question no longer seems whether Orr will break that record—just when he will do it.

Los Angeles got a goal from Bill Flett with less than five minutes to play to tie the Rangers.

Reliance '5' Wins Title in 'Y' Tourney

NEENAH — Reliance Printers of Green Bay topped the Menasha Macs, 90-77, for the championship of the Neenah-Menasha YWCA holiday basketball tournament Sunday night.

The Printers led by 23-21, 43-35 and 75-56 scores at the quarter junctures and their margin was never lower than 11 points in the final stanza.

Tom Gossens hooped 22 points, Al Schmidt 21 and Gary Van Chyk 16 for Reliance. Bud Muntner had 22, Jim Koerner 19 and Gordy Selbach 16 for the Macs.

Reliance overpowered the Knights of Columbus, 142-81, and Strange Paper, 132-76, in their first two games while the Macs beat Neenah-Menasha YWCA, 92-72, and W-W Bar, 97-62.

Schmidt was chosen the most valuable player in the second annual tournament.

Provides Viking Leadership

Charisma Lacking, but Joe Kapp Displays Qualities of a Winner

By MIKE RATHET

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Joe Kapp, Minnesota's mighty Mexican, drives a 1939 black LaSalle sedan—and nothing may be more fitting.

For Joe Kapp is a throwback to another era, an anti-hero in this day when only charisma seems to command national attention. Joe Kapp doesn't have that. He doesn't have shaggy hair like Joe Namath. He doesn't have a name that rings like Roman Gabriel. And he doesn't have the talent of either.

But Joe Kapp, 31, of Mexican-German descent, scarred by a barroom brawl, an immigration fight and a life in port from Canada, has lived life with enough depth to develop a mental attitude which rejects defeat. That doesn't command the national attention. It does, however, provide leadership.

And Kapp's leadership was the catalyst for the Vikings' come-from-behind 23-20 victory over the Los Angeles Rams Saturday that sent them into the National Football League championship game next Sunday against the Cleveland Browns.

Mistakes Aided Rams

Kapp's leadership asserted itself in the fourth quarter after his own mistakes had enabled the Rams to build what seemed to be a commanding 20-14 lead in a game controlled on a frigid 21-degree day by the opposing defensive forces.

Los Angeles had taken a 17-7 halftime lead behind Gabriel, but Kapp's 41-yard pass to John Henderson was the key in a third quarter touchdown drive capped by Dave Osborn's one-yard smash that made it 17-14.

Then, later in the quarter, Kapp drove the Vikings toward the goal line again only to have Ed Meador intercept a pass on the four-yard line. On the ensuing series, Kapp again was intercepted, by Rich Petitbon on the Vikings' 36 and Bruce Gossett's field goal made it 20-14 in the fourth quarter.

But, remember, Kapp doesn't know defeat.

"He stood on that sideline," said linebacker Wally Hilgenberg. "And he was yelling at the defense—'get me that seed, get me that seed.'"

Just a Winner

That seed is the football with which Kapp can't throw a perfect spiral. But then Joe Kapp, according to the people who are supposed to know, can't do a lot of things with the football—except win.

When the Vikings got that seed back, Kapp was ready.

Three imperfect spirals for 40 yards helped bring the ball to the Los Angeles 19. Then, following a three-yard gain by Osborn, Kapp took matters into his own feel.

He proceeded to scramble for 12 yards and, one play later, booted around left end for the final two yards and a touchdown. Fred Cox added the extra point and the Vikings led for the first time 21-20 with 8 1/2 minutes left in the battle for the Western Conference title.

Bad Day

"It just wasn't our day," he said. "But we are more experienced than ever before and I am confident we will do better in the other meets of the tournament."

Kotlarek, four-time U.S. national ski jumping champ, was enthusiastic about the team's chances of success because "we have been training in Europe for the past month. In years past, we would normally send a team to Europe just a few days before a meet."

Other U.S. finishers: 49, Jerry Martin, 47, 73, 188.7, 55, Greg Swor, 74.5, 73.5, 184.8, 67, Adrian Watt, 70.5, 72, 174.5, 72, Ken Harkins, 72, 69, 169.6, 87, Georg Krog, 67, 71, 156.8, 89, Tim Depesson, 65, 68, 151.8 and 95, Dave Norby, 61, 64, 137.

AMERICA'S LARGEST FAMILY CLOTHING CHAIN

Nixon and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount have given top priority to substituting management of the mails by 535 congressmen and a postmaster general with an independent corporate management they say is needed to stop waste, modernize the system and stop deficits that ran to $12 billion last year.

The compromise was born at two meetings between a White House legal trouble shooter, Charles Colson, and James H. Rademacher, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers—called by Colson after the White House was flooded with more than three million letters in response to pay protest advertisements run by Rademacher's union in newspapers across the country.

It would be a projected 11 per cent pay hike for postal employees with a postal authority granting Rademacher's three demands, having binding arbitration in lieu of the right to strike; putting four congressmen on the 13-member executive council, and keeping civil service status for federal employees.

Colson denies a story that Nixon instructed him to find a way to work out a compromise and get the corporation moving in Congress. But Rademacher says Nixon expressed pleasure to him with the compromise during a 15-minute meeting between the two after it was worked out.

The compromise was drafted not by the White House, Colson says, but by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz.

Police Refuse Comment on UW Firebomb Theory

MADISON (AP) — Campus police declined to express an opinion Sunday night on the city Fire Department's theory that a firebomb caused a blaze at a Reserve Officer Training Corps facility at the University of Wisconsin.

The morning fire caused an estimated $700-$1,000 damage to walls and furnishings, campus security chief Ralph Hanson said. But Hanson declined comment when asked if he agreed with firefighters that a firebomb had been thrown into the building.

He said city police were helping campus policemen successfully ing his campus force with an in- prevented antiwar demonstration, and that the FBI tors from forcing their way into the ROTC office earlier this Hanson and a handful of his, month.

Democrats Try To Erase Debt

Fund-Raising Dinner In Miami Meant to Raise $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic party, still saddled with a massive presidential campaign debt, hopes to ease the financial distress with a Feb. 5 fund raising affair in Miami Beach.

Party chairman Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma hopes the affair, to be linked with at least 16 regional Democratic dinners by closed circuit television, will clear more than $1 million.

But that still will leave the party far from settlement of its $7.5 million presidential campaign debt.

"The financial situation of the Democratic National Committee will, of course, remain quite serious for the near future," Harris acknowledged in a year end report to the party.

He said the Miami Beach dinner and gala will be the party's principal 1970 fund raising effort.

Three of the Democrats' star performers, Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie are to appear on the TV hook-up from Miami Beach.

The national committee also plans separate late spring fund raising affairs in Washington and New York.

But the supply of Democratic dollars faces competing demands, particularly from senators and House members facing re-election in 1970. The party's congressional campaign committees will hold their own fund-raising dinner in Washington.
